SCHOOL BOARD'S EMPLOYES TO BE QUESTIONED ON M'CAFFERY WORK

Shop Foremen Among Those From Whom Depositions Will Be Taken in Suit to Oust President.

Testimony will be taken next week in depositions from Board of Education employes concerning work done by them on a house owned by a son of Dr. James J. McCaffery, board president.

The depositions will be taken by George A. Jensen, attorney for board members Louis H. Antoine and Daniel L. Schlafly, who filed suit Thursday in circuit court to oust Dr. McCaffery for alleged gross misconduct in having board employes do the work.

Among board employes to be questioned are shop foremen whose records show payment of at least $578 in school salary checks to seven board employes for the period from May 14 through May 22, during which time they rehabilitated a house owned by James N. McCaffery and his wife, Agnes, at 6117 McPherson avenue.

Notations Added to Records.

When Antoine and Schlafly first examined the work-time records of the seven board employes last Monday, the records bore no notations. Now the records of six of the men bear a notation "overpaid," it was reported.

Among board employes to be examined in the depositions are Joseph Manley, carpenter foreman for north St. Louis, and John Grimes, general plumbing foreman.

Manley told the Post-Dispatch he was positive that two carpenters who worked at the McCaffery house did not do so on days when they were being paid by the Board of Education.

"What they do on their off-days is no concern of mine," he said.

The two carpenters who worked at the house are Robbert Zollman, 1606 McLaren avenue, who refused to discuss the matter except to say he "took time off from the board to work for an individual," and William E. Moegle, 4144 Fairview avenue.

Paid by McCaffery.

Moegel told a reporter he had worked five days for Dr. McCaffery and that all five days he was off the school's payroll. He said Dr. McCaffery paid him for the work by personal check.

Dr. McCaffery acknowledged to the Post-Dispatch Thursday that board employes had worked at his son's house, but he insisted all of them were temporarily removed from the board payroll when working for him.

Joseph Eisele Jr., 4542 Alice avenue, a plumber for the board of education, said he had worked four days, May 12 through May 15, for a plumbing contractor doing work at the McCaffery house. The contractor paid him, Eisele said.

Eisele said he was on the school board's payroll for the four days he worked at the McCaffery residence, but "made up the time" by working four

Khrushchev Replies on Policing Atom Tests, Said to Favor Idea

Answer to Eisenhower's Appeal for Talks on Subject Being Translated — Meeting Would Start Soon.

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev replied today to President Eisenhower's week-old proposal for an immediate meeting of scientists to work out ways of policing an atomic test suspension agreement.

It was understood that Khrushchev's response in general was favorable to getting the proposed talks started at Geneva in the immediate future.

The State Department said the three-page letter was being translated and would be sent to Mr. Eisenhower. The President is spending the weekend at Gettysburg, Pa.

The Soviet government was expected to make public the letter during the weekend.

State Department Statement.

After Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov called at the State Department, the department press office made this statement:

"Mr. Menshikov came in to see Under Secretary (Christian A.) Herter this morning. He delivered a communication in Russian. This appears to be a reply from Premier Khrushchev to the President's letter of May 24. It is being translated and sent to the President."

Mr. Eisenhower sent a brief letter to Khrushchev last Saturday. In it he called for appointment of scientific experts to meet with experts from the Western side. No international agreement for halting nucltar tests exists as yet but an accord on enforcement methods might insure a pact on test suspension later this year — perhaps at a summit conference.

Way Open for Satellites.

Mr. Eisenhower suggested that scientists of Britain, France and perhaps other Western governments be included on the United States side and left the way open for Russia to include technical experts from such satellites as Czechoslovakia, Poland and perhaps even Red China.

The President's May 2 4letter was a reply to a May 9 letter from Khrushchev agreeing that both the Soviet and western powers should begin immediate study of methods for detecting possible violation of a test suspension agreement.

Mr. Eisenhower increased pressure on the Soviets for a quick and favorable reply by naming three United States scientists to meet with scientists of other conutries at Geneva in three weeks.

GAULLIST CHIEFS IN ALGERIA VOTE TO BREAK OFF POLITICAL TIES

Decision Is Regarded as Head-On Fight Against System They Consider Root of French Troubles.

By BENJAMIN WELLES

© New York Times News Service

ALGIERS, May 31 — The leaders of the De Gaulle insurrection here voted yesterday to resign from all political parties with which they are affiliated. Their move was seen as the start of a head-on attack by the Gaullists on the political party system, which they regard as a root of France's problems.

Under the chairmanship of Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu, the 44 members of the Committee of Public Safety of May 13 voted unanimously that the Gaullist movement must be "unpolitical,." Membership in any political party is incompatible with service in the Gaullist cause, they agreed.

Committees of public safety are now flowering throughout Algeria under official stimulation. There are now reported to be "hundreds" and at least 120 in metropolitan France. Leon Delbecque, a top Committee of Public Safety official, said the committees, which he described as a "state of mind" rather than a formal organization, would continue to function even after De Gaulle assumed power in France.

Four Rules of Membership.

The May 13 committee set four guiding principles for membership in the nation-wide chain of Gaullist organizations. Members must be: French citizens, at least 18, without a criminal record and without membership in a political party.

It is now considered axiomatic by observers here that French citizens now associated with—or planning in the future to associate themselves with—the triumphant Gaullist movement will resign from the political parties of which they are now members either through conviction or persuasion.

Col. Charles Lacheroy, spokesman for Gen. Raoul Salan, who announced the committee's vote, denied it was aimed at intimidating anyone against belonging to a French political party.

"The only meaning it has here is that the May 13 committtee wishes to stay clear of party politics—and that its members have voted unanimously that its example be followed among all the affiliates," he declared.

Lacheroy repeated that the French army here is standing by alert lest a combination of French Communists and their "allies" seek to prevent De Gaulle from coming to power in France.

"The army remains vigilant lest the Communists and their allies say 'no'" he repeated solemnly.

Reference to Church.

The May 13 committee also voted to express its appreciation to Archbishop Etienne Duval of Algiers for bearing witness to the "union of hearts" now taking place throughout the province of Algeria.

It urged the prelate—who is widely known for his liberal sympathies toward the Moslem population — to inform the French hierarchy of this Christian-Moslem-Jewish reconciliation and to notify also the cardinal archbishop of Carthage, who is primate of Africa.

The committee's resolution was interpreted by experienced observers as a move to silence Catholic church critics of alleged French brutalities and ruthlessness in combating terrorism.

The French army and right-wing settlers here have long resented such criticisms and have charged their clerical critics with sympathy toward the Algerian nationalists.

A crowd of 70,000 French war veterans massed on the esplanade in front of the government general building last night to hear Gen. Salan, Gen. Massu, Jacques Soustelle and other leaders of the insurrection vow fidelity to De Gaulle. The army, they declared, is standing by "vigilant" and fully behind De Gaulle.

"Will You Continue..."

Soustelle, addressing the crowd from the balcony as spotlights played on the upturned faces below, asked rhetorically:

"Will you continue until we reach our final objective?"

The crowd roared "yes."

"Are you against any compromise or abandonment?" Soustelle continued.

Again the crowd roared "yes."

"Your wholehearted reply will be transmitted to the persons concerned," Soustelle told them.

FORMAL ASSENT FROM GENERAL FOLLOWS SHIFT BY SOCIALISTS

Party Gives Deputies Free Choice, Thus Assuring Him Big Majority in Assembly Vote Tomorrow.

PARIS, May 31 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle formally agreed tonight to become Premier of France.

The Socialist party, which had been fighting him, gave its members the privilege of a free vote and half of them swung behind the General. This assured him a big majority in the National Assembly for his investiture tomorrow as Premier.

De Gaulle reported his decision to President Rene Coty a short time after hearing this news. The President immediately notified the Assembly that the 67-year-old French resitsance elader had been designated the new head of the Cabinet.

The next step is tomorrow's vote by the 595-member Assembly. Today's Socialist split means he would get about 50 Socialist votes, leaving him with fewer than the total of 400 votes he had demanded but still a comfortable margin over the certain opposition of 150 Communist deputies. The Socialists who did not support De Gaulle may abstain, thus increasing his margin.

Within minutes of the Socialists' decision, the Radical Socialists announced they had decided by a caucus vote of 30 to 10 to support the General when he appears before the Assembly tomorrow morning for a formal investiture as Premier with extraordinary powers.

The Socialist decision was reached at a joint meeting of the party's National Assembly and Senate groups—its full representation in Parliament—and the party's steering committee.

The result of this caucus, as announced officially, was 77 votes for De Gaulle and 74 against.

Hopeless Split.

The sources said that when he saw the trend was against him on this issue, ex-Premier Guy Mollet told his fellow Socialists:

"In these circumstances, I do not see how I can remain at the head of the party." They interpreted this as meaning he might resign as party secretary general.

The Catholic Popular Republicans (MRP), the right-wing supporters of Pierre Poujade, and two small dissident radical groups also announced they would vote for De Gaulle, as did the tiny, seven-deputy Convention Africaine.

Gaullists clashed with Communists in Bordeaux today but Paris was generally quiet after rioting in which six persons were injured last night and early today.

When the Assembly meets it will be virtually to vote itself out of power for from six months to a year. De Gaulle has demanded that much time free of interference to install his reforms.

Pflimlin's Resignation.

Earlier, President Rene Coty had signaled the go-ahead for De Gaulle's investiture by formally accepting the resignation of Premier Pflimlin's government.

Apparently reliable reports said De Gaulle had in mind a government of two parts:

An inner cabinet or "political council" of five members—probably former President Vincent Auriol and heads of key political parties.

Ten other ministers picked from leading members of Parliament, and to include seven "technicians" and three representatives of the labor unions. Among the technicians would be Wilfred Baumgartner, president of the Bank of France.

De Gaulle received a stream of visitors this morning, presumably outlining his program to them and working on his cabinet list.

The list was expected to include Auriol, former Premier Georges Bidault, who probably would be foreign minister, former Premier Antoine Pinay and Pierre-Henri Teitgen, a leading member of the Popular Republican party.

The program De Gaulle was expected to outline to the Assembly tomorrow would include revision of the constitution vastly increasing executive powers; a new program of equality for Algeria; full powers for De Gaulle to run the country for six months or a year without parliamentary interference; foreign policy based on continued membership in NATO, and restoration of civil liberties.

Pflimlin Visits General.

Pflimlin called on De Gaulle today and later told newsmen:

"When I presented my resig-

171 TRAFFIC DEAD AT HALFWAY POINT IN 3-DAY HOLIDAY

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—There were 171 persons killed on the highways as the three-day Memorial day weekend passed the halfway mark. In all, 249 persons had met violent death, including 46 drownings and 32 deaths from miscelaneous causes.

Missouri listed two deaths on the highway and three drownings; Illinois 12 traffic deaths, three drownings and two deaths from miscellaneous causes.

The National Safety Council reported fatalities were mounting at a rate that will set a new Memorial day holiday record—unless the climb is checked. The council had predicted 350 motor vehicle deaths for the long weekend. The record for a three-day observance of the holiday, 369, was set in 1955.

An Associated Press survey made for comparative purposes showed 294 persons were killed in traffic accidents in a 78-hour period beginning Thursday at 6 p.m. on a "normal" weekend, May 15-18.

PANAMA STUDENTS SETTLE DISPUTE WITH PRESIDENT

© New York Times News Service

PANAMA, May 31—A compromise between President Ernesto de la Guardia and several hundred students at the National University of Panama has been worked out.

The settlement was announced yesterday. On the principal student demand—removal of three leaders of the National Guard—the President promised to submit legislation limiting the tenure of guard commanders to the four-year term of the President who appoints them.

The dispute began May 19 with student demonstrations against Victor N. Juliao, the education minister. He was dismissed Thursday by President de la Guardia.

The dispute became violent May 22 when students clashed with National Guardsmen. Since then the students have been on what amounts to a sit-down strike in the university.

JOBLESS GETTING BENEFITS DROP FOR FIFTH WEEK

Seasonal Improvements Reported — Some of Idle No Longer Eligible for Aid.

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, May 31 — The number of workers collecting unemployment insurance declined again in the week ended May 17, for the fifth week in a row.

The five-week decline has amounted to 10 per cent. The Department of Labor attributed it partly to "seasonal improvements" in business, particularly construction and other outdoor work, and partly to the fact that many workers have been unemployed so long that they are no longer entitled to collect benefits.

The report issucd Thursday, said the number of workers exhausting their benefits had been increasing this month in the eight large states that report exhaustions every week. In April they numbered 231,200, or about twice as many as in April 1957.

In the report week, 3,019,000 insured unemployed workers collected. That was 82,000 fewer than in the previous week, but still more than twice as many as a year ago. The new total represented 7.2 per cent of all workers covered by the insurance system.

Insured unemployment declined by 8 per cent in the corresponding five weeks last year.

The labor report also included figures on new claims filed for unemployment insurance in the week ended May 24—a rough measure of new layoffs, and in this case an indicator that they are declining.

Initial claims numbered 324,500 that week, which was 34,700 fewer than the week before. It was the lowest since the mid-November week, when 301,500 claims were filed.

STREET FIGHTING FLARES AGAIN IN LEBANON, 3 DEAD

Government Tanks, Cannon Used on Rebels in Tripoli's Arab Quarter.

By RUSSELL JONES

TRIPOLI, Lebanon, May 31 (UPI)—Fighting resumed here today after a daylong battle yesterday in which one to five persons were killed and an undetermined number wounded.

It was the cannon of government tanks against the rifles and machine guns of rebels holed up in the Arab quarter.

Rebel sources said at least 12 persons were killed this morning, bringing to 20 the total number killed in three days of fighting.

The shooting yesterday started about 10 a.m. when a tank crew lobbed a shell into one of the barricades, really not much more than a pile of kindling, that spring up overnight like mushrooms. The rebels replied with a crackle of small-arms fire.

Rebels Provide Guides.

The rebels sent guides to steer correspondents through twisting lanes to their headquarters, and from there to the firing line.

The rebels were outspoken about their determination to free Lebanon from "outsiders." While the fighthing was going on Tripoli's chief rebel Rasbid Karami, was in Beirut conferring with chief of staff Maj. Gen. Fuad Chehab.

The insurgents are trying as hard as the government to enlist the support of Chehab, who has refused so far to line politically with either side.

Sometime during the day, Foreign Minister Charles Malik slipped off by air for New York. His departure was not announced, and he was said to be traveling under an assumed name as a precaution against assassination attemtps.

The official tipoff to Malik's reparture was the announcement that Premier Sami Solh will act as foreing minister for the time he left.

Malik will represent Lebanon during U.N. debate on this country's charge of "massive interference" in its affairs by President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

Atmosphere of Fantasy.

He added to the atmosphere of fantasy surrounding the whole conflict by referring repeatedly to the U.A.R. as "our dearest brothers" in a statement issued in Beirut about the he left.

(The New York Times quoted Malik as saying Lebanon might ask for an international commission to police the Syrian-Lebanese border to prevent further interference from Syria in Lebanon's affairs. He charged that infiltration of armed men from Syria was continuing.

(Another New York Times dispatch said the patriarch of the Marinite Catholic Church had come out openly against President Camille Chamoun. The patriarch, Paul Boutros Meouchi, said he feared the situation had become too grave for a compromise. He suggested the time would soon come for President Chamoun to "take a trip" so that Chehab, the army commander could assume full power of government.)

U.S. ARMY CANCELS MEMORIAL DAY EVENTS IN FRANCE

PARIS, May 31 (UPI)—In Flanders field the poppies grew unnoticed yesterday. And in Chateau Thierry and on the Normandy beaches the United States Army quietly canceled all Memorial day services across France.

There was no official explanation, but it was obvious that American authorities wanted to avoid any gathering or ceremonies in France's crucial hour.

It was the first time since the liberation in World War II that the white-crossed meadows where American dead of two wars are buried have gone without official homage on Memorial day.

In North Africa and elsewhere in Europe, services and ceremonies were held. Flags flew at half-staff over all official United States installations in Germany. German flags also were lowered in memory.

MOTHER LLAMA TO SHOW OFF HER SPOTLESS INFANT

A mother llama will show off a newborn daughter tomorrow in the South American pampas section of the Zoo.

The youngster, born six days ago, is completely white and very furry. Mother and babe have remained in a special stall in a house adjoining the pampas yards since the birth.

The protective mother has been rude to all strangers, permitting only visits by an old friend, Keeper Ed Becker.

Zoo Director George Vierheller named the newcomer "Whitey" for obvious reasons. Most llamas have brown or black spots.

FORMER PROFESSOR HELD IN SERIES OF BURGLARIES

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 31 (UPI)—Police are clearing up a three-year series of burglaries which they said were solved with the arrest of a former college professor.

Police Commissioner Clyde C. Sellers said Quinton G. Crow, 29 years old, admitted 40 to 50 burglaries in which the loot totaled more than $15,000.

Crow recently resigned professor of business administration at Alabama Christian College and as tax agent for the county board of revenue.

FRANCE NEARLY BANKRUPT, IT BALKS ON TRADE

Warns It May Not Be Able to Implement European Common Market Pact.

By DON COOK

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

LONDON, May 31 — The French government has informed its European partners that it faces a financial crisis verging on bankruptcy in the next six weeks. It told them it cannot negotiate further on a European free trade area and may not even be able to implement the already-ratified European common market treaty.

This warning, it was learned through diplomatic sources in London, was conveyed to a meeting of the "European six"—Italy, West Germany, France, and the three Benelux countries—at Brussels last week by Maurice Faure, Minister of State for European Affairs in the outgoing Pflimlin government.

This warning, however, is believed to be true for the incoming government of Gen. Charles De Gaulle as well—particularly the death knell which has been sounded for the British-sponsored European free trade area plan, which the French have never liked much anyway.

EPU Facing Crisis.

Moreover, the warning also confronts Europe with an immediate policy crisis in one of its most successful postwar institutions — the European Payments Union. The current EPU agreement, which has been instrumental in the clearing of trading accounts and liberalization of trade policies for all of Europe for the last eight years, expires on June 30. Negotiations for its renewal were to have opened shortly.

France is already more than $400,000,000 in debt to the payments union, and the deficit increased by another $58,300,000 in April, according to the latest figures. The incoming De Gaulle government might well decide on a suspension of trade liberalization and a policy of greater economic isolation to try and curb the plunge into bankruptcy.

381-Year-Old Mystery Solved, Swedish King Erik Was Poisoned

STOCKHOLM, May 31 (AP)—An expert commission of 13 scientists reported yesterday that King Erik the Fourteenth of Sweden was undoubtedly killed by arsenic 381 years ago.

The scientists opened Erik's tomb in Vasteras Cathedral last Jan. 20 to check into the legend that he was killed by arsenic in his pea soup. They used X-rays and even a modern atomic reactor in their belated inquest.

They reported they found no trace of pea soup. But there was enough arsenic in the remnants of the corpse to kill any man, they said.

Moreover, they went on, skin and tissue experts found the arsenic so distributed as to exclude possibility it entered the body after death.

Prof Martin Olsson, the commission leader, said it is a matter of opinion whether the evidence is 100 per cent complete or only 99 per cent.

The reactor showed the corpse of the red-bearded Renaissance monarch also contained some mercury.

Most historians have believed all along that Erik, deposed in a revolt, was done in by an arsenic potion ordered by his brother King Johan III. Johan feared a comeback by the man who was an unsuccessful suitor for the hand of Britain's first Queen Elizabeth but who later married the beautiful daughter of a stable hand.

Legend also has it that the arsenic was administered by Filip Kern, Johan's "barbcutter," the man who trimmed the kingly beard. Kern was a part-time pharmacist at Orhybus castle when Erik died in its dungeons Feb. 26, 1577.

President's Advice to Grandson On Golf: Get Hands Blistered

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower drove a ball about 200 yards down the fairway today at the start of an early round of golf. He was joined at the Gettysburg Country Club by his son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower, and an old friend, retired Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins.

Spending the Memorial Day weekend at his farm estate, Mr. Eisenhower also was accompanied to the club by his 10-year-old grandson, David Eisenhower, who took a golf lesson.

"Work hard, David," the boy's grandfather called out with a grin. "Get your hands blistered a little."

The President played twice around the nine-hole course. Young David chauffered his grandfather's cart for the final nine and played part of it himself. Then the President returned to his farm to relax with his family for the rest of the day.

Mr. Eisenhower arrived at his farm by helicopter from Washington late yesterday and got in a fast nine holes before dinner. He arrived within an hour after he had taken part in Arlington National Cemetery rites honoring America's unknown dead of World War II and the Korean war.

The President changed clothes quickly and motored to the golf course where he played a round with Gen. Nevins.

Mrs. Eisenhower arrived by automobile from Washington a few hours ahead of the President. They were joined at the farm last evening by their son and daughter-in-law and their four children.

It was the ninth birthday of one of the President's granddaughters, Barbara Anne.

NEW BOMBERS EXPECTED TO FLY 2000 M.P.H., AIR WRITERS TOLD

Gen. Putt Says Air Force Is Also Designing Nuclear Plane—Declares Russians Are Far Ahead.

By DAVID R. WALLIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

HOUSTON, Tex., May 31 — The newest bomber, B-70, and fighter, the F-108, now being added to the United States aerial arsenal will fly at more than 2000 miles an hour with atomic weapons, Lt. Gen. Donald L. Putt, deputy chief of staff for development of the Air Force, said here last night.

Gen. Putt addressed the banquet of the Aviation Writers Association at the close of its annual convention. He noted that he is retiring June 30, and that it was probably his last official speech as an Air Force officer.

Another speaker, Jerome Lederer, director of Flight Safety Foundation, Inc., and the Cornell-Guggenheim Aviation safety center, urged creation of a national laboratory for solving aviation operating problems. He said such a laboratory is a "badly-needed answer to aviation safety problems."

Lederer was presented with the first annual Monsanto aviation safety award, sponsored by Monsanto Chemical Co. of St. Louis, for the greatest contribution to aviation safety in the previous year.

He urged creation of an independent federal aeronautic agency and a general overhauling of the 20-year-old civil aeronautics act, under which commercial, private and many military flights are conducted. He also said expansion of federal aviation weather services are badly needed.

High Altitudes.

Gen. Putt said the B-70 bomber, for which a contract recently was awarded to North American Aviation, Inc., will be able to fly at speeds in excess of 2000 miles an hour at very high altitudes for its entire long range. He said the Air Force also has a nuclear bomber in design study phases.

"The F-108 fighter, which also is being built by North American, will be able to reach out over extremely long ranges at about 2000 miles an hour and above, and destroy enemy bombers long before they reach targets in the United States and Canada," Gen. Putt continued. "It will have a Hughes (Aircraft Co.) guided air-to-air missile with an atomic warhead.

"In the development of the nuclear bomber, we have taken a cautious approach in order to come up with a weapon system. I would not be surprised if the Russians should fly a nuclear-propelled aircraft in less than a year."

He said continuing progress is being made by the Air Force on the nuclear bomber, but that he could not say when it will fly. The Air Force nuclear propulsion program includes propulsion devices for rockets, ramjets and auxiliary power plants for satellites and space vehicles as well as bombers, he added.

Great Strides.

"The Soviets have modern long range bombers and have made great strides in intermediate and intercontinental ballistic missiles as well as satellites. The recent launching of their third satellite, weighing more than a ton, clearly indicates they have the means to launch intercontinental ballistic misiles with sizable warheads," he said.

Gen. Putt predicted supersonic airliners in the next 10 years and a manned space vehicle — the dyna-soar — which will orbit around the earth and return to a landing field in the United States with its crew.

Further ahead, he said, there will be tremendous strides in power plants that are undreamed of today. Space vehicles launched from earth with million-pound-thrust rocket engines could continue throughout the solar system by utilizing photon or ion energy at extreme altitudes, he said.

De Gaulle

nation last Wednesday, the President replied that he would not accept it until the moment when it appeared possible to form a new government.

"Since such a possibility is appearing today, the President has just informed me that he has accepted my resignation.

"As is the custom, he has asked me to handle current matters."

Other callers included Pinay, whose Independent party started the De Gaulle bandwagon rolling; former Premier Mollet and former Socialist Finance Minister Paul Ramadier.

De Gaulle was holding another round-table conference with party leaders at 5 p.m. when they would present the formal replies of their parties to his offer to them to participate in a "government of national safety."

But one party leader emerging from this morning's meeting said, "It's in the bag now."

Former Premier Edgar Faure, leader of the Left Republican Rally and outgoing finance minister, said: "All those groups which are supporting De Gaulle will be represented in the Cabinet."

'Interesting Details.'

Edouard Daladier, leader of the Radical party and also a former Premier, said "The General gave us interesting details about his program, especially the constitution and Algeria. The atmosphere was on the whole favorable."

Pinay said, "No difficulty now remains."

The Communists were reported preparing to "go underground" if necessary.

De Gaulle moved into the Laperouse Hotel on the Seine's left bank last night. With him was his wife and enough baggage for a long stay. Members of the De Gaulle party were the only guests.

Some 70 persons were arrested and three civilians and three security police were reported injured in sporadic clashes along the Champs Elysees and near the Arc de Triomphe last night and early this morning.

A car driven by Faure, with his wife as a passenger, was halted by demonstrators. They started throwing rocks at the car but Faure managed to drive his way through the crush.

Police, security troops and gendarmes (federal police) were in squads six deep midway along the Champs Elysees and their tempers clearly were short. A police charge quickly broke up a rock-throwing chair-swinging fight between about 100 pro- and anti-De Gaullists at midnight.

By 1:30 a.m., quiet had been restored.

Strike Calls Unheeded.

Communist-called strikes across the country got almost no support from the workers.

A nationwide teachers strike "for the defense of republican liberties" pulled nearly 200,000 of France's 260,000 teachers out of their class rooms but it was not clearly aimed against De Gaulle.

Of 100,000 miners in the northern French Coal region, long a Communist stronghold, only a few hundred refused to work.

At another Communist bastion, the Atlantic coast port of La Pallice, almost all dockers failed to obey a "Stop De Gaulle" strike order from the Comunist-led General Confederation of Labor.

At Paris's giant Renault auto works not a single man stayed out.

Generally peaceful anti-De Gaulle demonstrations were reported in industrialized provincial cities such as Le Mans, Nevers, Chateauroux, Limoges, Guerst and Saint-Etienne.

At Metz, capital of Lorraine, several hundred De Gaulle supporters gathered at the city's war memorial to sing the Marseillaise.

At Nericourt-sous-Lens, near the industrial city of Lille, city councillor Maurice Ducoin went to the hospital with a fractured skull after four men jumped him as he painted De Gaulle's White Cross of Lorraine symbol on a sidewalk.

KHRUSHCHEV TO ATTEND BULGARIAN RED CONGRESS

MOSCOW, May 31 (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev left today aboard a TU-104 jet plane for Sofia, Bulgaria.

Khrushchev heads a delegation of the Soviet Communist party which will attend the seventh congress of the Bulgarian Communist party, opening Monday.

Khrushchev's departure was disclosed in a brief announcement by the official Soviet Tass news agency.

Unknown Dead of World War II, Korean War Entombed in Shrine

Buried With Ceremonies of Three Religious Faiths — President Presents Posthumous Medals of Honor.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEMETERY, Va., May 31—Two unknown dead of the Korean War and World War II were entombed here yesterday in this nation's shrine for those who died fighting for their country.

Just before sunset, after a day of reverence and mourning for them, the two were lowered into crypts flanking the great marble tomb of the Unknown Soldier of World War I. The three, lying side by side on a peaceful green knoll overlooking the Potomac and the nation's capital, are claimed by all their countrymen, and "known but to God."

Chosen in a deliberately complex fashion to preserve forever their anonymity, the two are symbolic of the 327,000 Americans who died in World War II and in Korea.

Medals of Honor.

Before they were buried, with Catholic, Protestant and Jewish services in Latin, English and Hebrew and to the accompaniment of hymns, military salutes and the grief of thousands, they were presented posthumous Congressional Medals of Honor by President Eisenhower.

In a solemn ceremony in the colonnaded white marble amphitheater of the Unknown Soldier of World War I, the President laid the medals on the flag-draped caskets of the two unknowns and said:

"On behalf of a grateful people, I now present Medals of Honor to these two unknowns who gave their lives for the United States of America."

Earlier the two dead service men had been removed from the Capitol rotunda where they had lain in state since Wednesday.

The funeral cortege wound down Pennsylvania avenue to Constitution, past the Washington Monument where cannon boomed a salute each minute, then past the Lincoln memorial and across the quiet Potomac to the National Cemetery here.

Thousands watched the procession, silent as the caissons rolled past.

The procession wound through the green cemetery to the amphitheater. Inside were the nation's highest officials, Supreme Court justices, cabinet members, Representatives and Senators, military chiefs, and representatives from foreign embassies.

After the national anthem by a bareheaded, red-jacketed Marine Corps band and an invocation by Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Ryan of the Army's Chaplain Corps, a trumpet sounded "attention" and the 4000 persons in the amphitheater stood in silence for two minutes.

Dirge by Army Chorus.

President Eisenhower then placed on the caskets black pillows holding the Medals of Honor and service chaplains intoned memorials to the dead. An Army chorus sang Walt Whitman's mighty "Dirge for two Veterans."

The caskets then were carried to positions flanking the tomb of America's World War I unknown soldier. President Eisenhower stood before the casket of the World War II unknown and Vice President Richard M. Nixon before that of the nameless fighter from Korea. Both were bareheaded, silent and reverent.

A band played softly the "Faith of Our Fathers" and the chaplains read graveside services.

The honor guard snapped to attention and President Eisenhower laid a wreath of red and white carnations on the tomb of the World War I unknown. There was the hollow thud of a 21-gun salute and the crisp rattle of a three-volley salute. Piercing the silence came the poignant and melancholy sound of "taps." The ceremony was finished.

In the first hour after the service, more than 1500 persons filed slowly past the three unknowns, unmindful of the heat which has caused over 400 faintings during the ceremony. Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Whittaker was one of those overcome.

As the sun moved low to the west, the Korean War and World War II unknowns, were lowered quietly into their graves.

M.A.T.S. WILL MARK TENTH ANNIVERSARY TOMORROW

The Military Air Transport Service tomorrow marks its tenth anniversary.

MATS, a major command of the Air Force, was established June 1, 1948, with the consolidation of two wartime air transport agencies, the Air Transport Command and the Naval Air Transport Service. It was born just in time for the famous Berlin airlift and during its 14 months of operations provided some 2,325,509 tons of fuel, food and medicine to the 2,500,000 inhabitants of beleaguered Berlin. MATS operates its vast air transport system from headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois.

FRANCE ACCEPTS INVITATION TO VIEW U.S. H-BOMB TEST

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 31 (AP)—France has accepted an invitation to witness a United States hydrogen bomb test, a United States delegation source said yesterday.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold relayed an invitation from the United States to the other 14 countries on the United Nations radiation committee last month to send scientists to a demonstration of a so-called clean bomb in the Pacific next July or August. So far Belgium and Sweden have accepted. Czechoslovakia, India and the Soviet Union have rejected the invitation.

TROOP TRANSPORTS FLOWN TO EUROPE ARE RETURNING

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The Air Force said Thursday night that 18 troop-carrying aircraft sent to Europe on May 17, for possible use in the Middle East situation, were returning to the United States.

The big C-124 transports were flown hurriedly from Greenville, S.C., at a time when it looked as if they might be needed either to carry troops to Lebanon or to bring American nationals out of that riot-torn country.

THREE KILLED AS RIOTING CONTINUES IN CEYLON

COLOMBO, May 31 (AP)—Weeklong communal rioting worsened today in eastern Ceylon. Three persons were killed as police moved against Sinhalese demonstrators harassing the Tamil minority.

Authorities said the disturbances also had taken a violent turn in Ceylon's northen province. Rioters there set fire to a customs house and a ferry boat.

The Sinhalese rioted over a Tamil passive resistance campaign against government plans to make Sinhalese the only official language. About one-quarter of Ceylon's 8,000,000 people speak Tamil and most of the rest speak Sinhalese.

UAW ACTS TO END DEADLOCKS WITH FORD, CHRYSLER

Union Arranging for 300,000 at G.M. to Work Without Contract.

DETROIT May 31 (AP)—The United Auto Workers union sought to break deadlocked negotiations with Ford and Chrysler today while completing plans for about 300,000 General Motors employes to work without a contract.

UAW members at three G.M. plants worked without a contract yesterday. Others will do the same in all 126 company plants Monday, after the Memorial holiday ends.

Both management and union termed the Ford and Chrysler negotiations deadlocked and each accused the other of refusing to budge.

Contracts at Ford and Chrysler expire at midnight Sunday. The contract at G.M. expired Thursday midnight.

The UAW, as it had done unsuccessfully at General Motors, proposed today that Ford join in inviting federal mediators to sit in on last-minute attempts to reach a settlement. Ford promptly rejected it.

Sees Little Hope.

Ken Bannon, chief UAW negotiator at Ford, said bitterly "We see no chance for a settlement the next 48 hours unless General Motors releases Ford." He had charged yesterday Ford apparently was getting bargaining orders from "the General Motors building." Ford spokesmen heatedly denied it.

Bannon said, "We are prepared to modify our demands any time Ford shows it understands what collective bargaining is about and offers to bargain in good faith."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther decided against entering negotiations at either Chrysler or Ford today.

"With the present attitude of the company," Bannon said, "there is no reason for Walter to be here."

Neither side would comment publicly as today's session opened at Chrysler.

The industry's "Big Three" have offered to extend the old contracts two years. The UAW refused this.

Built-In Increases.

The G.M. extension would have included built-in wage increases totaling 16 cents an hour—a 7-cent productivity increase immediately, a 2-cent cost-of-living allowance increase immediately and a 7-cent productivity increase next year.

G.M. said this week that its 10,000 non-union employes would get both the immediate increases. It also said salaried personnel would get the equivalent.

The average hourly wage of auto production workers is about $2.40. G.M. estimates that its production workers get an average of $2.45 an hour.

Three G.M. plants at Atlanta, Ga., employing about 4800 hourly rate workers, operated yesterday without a contract. It was the first such operation in a G.M. plant in 21 years. G.M. said the plants operated normally. Atlanta G.M. workers were given a holiday on Confederate Memorial day, April 26.

G.M. Sets Terms.

G.M. set the terms for the no-contract work. Generally the terms follow the contract that expired except UAW membership no longer is a condition of employment.

The UAW has instructed local unions to establish gate patrols to demand that workers show dues receipts or membership cards. In this way it seeks to preserve an all-union shop. These patrols were not operating at Atlanta yesterday.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, was expected to join Ford talks today or tomorrow. The union said he might also join Chrysler bargaining talks.

Reuther asked for a Monday meeting with G.M. negotiators to lay the groundwork for further talks.

The International Electrical workers union (IEU) contract covering about 18,000 works at G.M. also expired Thursday midnight. Negotiators met brief midnight. Negotiators met briefly yesterday and recessed until Monday.

Oil Firms Say Price-Fixing Indictments Are 'Unwarranted'

Most of 29 Companies Affected Deny Accusation, Label Action 'Ridiculous and Preposterous.'

ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 31 (AP)—Oil company spokesmen say federal price-fixing conspiracy indictments against their firms are "preposterous . . . ridiculous . . . wholly unwarranted."

Denials came from most of the 29 oil firms indicted late Thursday by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to fix prices of crude oil and automobile gasoline in a 43-state area. The one-count indictment, which named companies but no individuals, climaxed an investigation that began in March 1957.

A number of firms declined comment on the indictment until they have had a chance to study it.

Many of the nation's largest oil companies were among the 29 charged with violating section I of the Sherman antitrust law. Conviction could bring a maximum penalty of a $50,000 fine.

Among those named were the Standard Oil companies of Indiana, New Jersey and Ohio, the Texas Co., Socony-Mobil, Phillips Petroleum, Sinclair, Skelly, Sun, Tidewater and Monsanto Chemical Co.

Also named were Ashland Oil and Refining Co., Cities Service Co., Gulf Oil Co., Atlantic Refining Co., and Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., DX-Sunray, Esso Standard, Humble, Indiana Oil Purchasing, Magnolia, Ohio Oil Co. and Sohio Oil Co.

Crude oil prices were boosted generally by 35 cents a barrel in January 1957. Later, the retail price of gasoline was increased generally by a cent a gallon.

Outgrowth of Suez Seizure.

Several months earlier, Egyptian seizure of the Suez canal had caused an oil shortage in Western Europe. Shortly before the domestic price increases, then Attorney General Herbert Brownell authorized American oil firms to take co-operative action in supplying needed oil to Europe.

However, Assistant Attorney General Victor R. Hansen, head of the Department of Justice antitrust division, told a House comittee this did not allow the companies to exchange information or make agreements on prices.

The indictment returned Thursday charged that, beginning in 1956 and continuing through January 1957, the defendant firms "engaged in an unlawful combination and conspiracy to raise, fix, and stabilize prices of crude oil throughout the affected market."

The affected market was described as all of the United States except California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Arizona.

According to the indictment, "the combination and conspiracy consisted of an agreement, understanding and concert of action among the defendants . . . for the purpose of raising, fixing and stabilizing" prices of crude oil and automobile gasoline.

The indictment said this led to increased crude oil and gasoline prices throughout the affected market, suppression of competition among the defendant firms, and restraint of interstate trade.

"A Shotgun Indictment."

Robert G. Dunlop, president of Sun Oil, said he had not seen the indictment, but that "from what I have been told, this seems to me a preposterous shotgun indictment." Dunlop said his firm will fight "this unfair and untruthful charge . . . with every means at our disposal."

L. F. McCollum, president of Continental, called the indictment "ridiculous and illogical." He said Continental Oil is ready to prove in court "our complete innocence of these charges."

K. S. Adams, board chairman of Phillips Petroleum, said he felt the indictment was "wholly unwarranted." Adams said he is confident it will be shown the charge against Phillips is without merit.

In his denial, John E. Swearingen, president of Standard Oil of Indiana, said efforts to meet West Europe's oil needs at the time of the Suez crisis had unbalanced domestic supplies. This imbalance, he said, exerted strong pressure on prices.

J. C. Donnell II, president of Ohio, called the accusations "completely false" and said Ohio Oil's pricing "is based solely on its management's day-to-day evaluation of supply, demand and competitive factors."

ARGENTINE JUDGE EXCLUDES PERON FROM AMNESTY

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

BUENOS AIRES, May 31—Judge Hector Ayarragaray yesterday declared former President Juan Peron to be guilty of "treason to the fatherland" and therefore excluded him from the general amnesty proclaimed by President Arturo Frondizi.

Unless overruled by a higher court the decision, in effect, means Peron cannot return to Argentina without facing arrest and trial on charge sof treason.

There is another and more powerful reason why Peron is unable to return. Military leaders of the revolution which overthrew him 1955 have sworn to prevent it.

Under terms of the amnesty passed by Congress and signed by President Frondizi, the government dropped charges of political and trade union offenses and "related crimes" brought against prominent Peronistas by the former provisional government of Gen. to courts to decide application Pedro E. Aramburu. It was left of amnesty in specific cases.

$525,000 FIRE DESTROYS PRISON BUILDING IN TEXAS

SEAGOVILLE, Tex., May 31 (AP) — A $525,000 fire destroyed a large building inside the Federal correctional institution yesterday, overcame 15 firefighters and burned uncontrolled for an hour before it was quenched.

All the 530 inmates at the Federal honor system prison were accounted for and 150 of them helped firemen from Dallas, Seagoville and Mesquite extinguish the flames. Six of the firemen overcame by smoke were inmates.

The blaze started in the one-story brick paint spray room of the industries building when a welding torch ignited paint fumes.

U.N. COUNCIL MEETS MONDAY OVER TUNISIA

Complaints by France, Former African Protectorate Will Be Taken Up.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 31 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council is scheduled to meet Monday on complaints by Tunisia and France, each accusing the other of responsibility for recent armed clashes in Tunisia.

The meeting was called yesterday by Charles S. A. Ritchie of Canada, the outgoing council president for May.

Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim charged Thursday that French forces in Tunisia and Algeria had conducted armed aggression against his country. Tunisia is trying to get Paris to evacuate some 22,000 French troops from the former French protectorate.

A countercharge that Tunisia had broken an agreement on stationing the troops there was filed by French delegate Guillaume Georges-Picot. He also asked the council to resume consideration of France's earlier charge that Tunisia is aiding the Algerian rebels.

Several small battles have been reported recently between French troops in central and southern Tunisia and the Tunisian forces trying to restrict them to their bases.

The Security Council session poses a difficult problem for the United States, which in a showdown vote would be forced to choose between its ally France and the new independent Tunisia.

Tunisian delegate Slim asked the Council to end "acts of armed aggression" committed by French troops from Tunisia and Algeria since May 19.

The French revived their complaint about aid furnished by Tunisia to Algerian rebels, first debated in the Council in February at the time of the French bombing of the Tunisian border village, Sakiet-Sidi-Youssef.

Georges-Picot asked the council to consider also the "disruption" by Tunisia of arrangements established in February about stationing French troops at certain points in Tunisia. France wants a restoration of conditions favorable to a restoration of negotiations with Tunisia about all their differences, he said.

NEW AIRLINER FOR RUSSIA

MOSCOW, May 3 (AP)—The Soviet Union introduced yesterday a new version of the giant TU-114 turboprop airliner. The Moscow press said the plane already has flown 5350 miles nonstop.

The plane was identified as the "D" version of the TU-114, which apparently was built with an eye to the New York-Moscow run.

BOY ON BICYCLE KILLED BY TRUCK; 4 OTHER FATAL AUTO ACCIDENTS

20 Injured in St. Louis Area Traffic Accidents Over Memorial Day Weekend—Vehicle Overturns in County.

A 10-year-old boy was killed by a truck today, and four persons were killed and 20 injured yesterday and last night in traffic accidents of the Memorial day weekend.

The dead were:

Bradley Berger, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland H. Berger, 4561A North Broadway.

William R. Glumm, 2129 South Third street.

Walter Fair, 2404 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis.

Mrs. Thelma Macklin, 1032 Libert avenue, East St. Louis.

Edgar M. Hermann, 420 East B street, Belleville.

The Berger boy rode a bicycle against the side of a tractor-trailer at Broadway and East Grand avenue. The vehicle was driven by Ronald Fenimore of Caseyville, Ill. He told police he was going east on East Grand and had made a right turn into Broadway, with the light in his favor, when the boy ran against his right rear side. The boy was a pupil at Lowell School. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Christian Hospital.

Glumm was killed when a truck in which he was one of 14 passengers overturned in southern St. Louis county, on Kingston drive at Terrel drive. Glumm was 21 years old. The group was on the way to a Memorial day picnic.

The truck was driven by James J. Winslow, 3908 South Broadway. Those injured, most of them treated at St. Louis County Hospital and released, were: Winslow's wife and their children, Sheryl, 10, Dennis, 11, and James Jr., 9; William Winslaw, 15, brother of the driver; Ira, Martha and Steven Glumm, brothers and sister of William; Gilbert Santoyo, 18; Mrs. Margaret White and her son Thurman, 11; Mrs. Janice Eckenfels, 16, and Mrs. Lenna Kohl.

Fair and Mrs. Macklin, both 28, were killed when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Gulf, Mobile & Ohio passenger train at East Carondelet, Ill., last night.

Also in the car, and seriously injured, were Mrs. Fannie Mae Miller, 1026 Cook avenue, and Samuel Adell, 1032 Liberty, East St. Louis. They were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis. The car was dragged about 300 feet.

Hermann, about 60, was found dead after the car he was driving ran into one that had stopped for a left turn at State and Thirty-seventh streets in East St. Louis yesterday. Police said he might have suffered a heart attack. He was dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital.

Five persons were injured early yesterday in a collision of two automobiles on MacArthur Bridge. The drivers were Elbert A. Leonard, 4509 Gibson avenue, and James L. Ayres of the 800 block of East DeSoto avenue.

Leonard's wife and a passenger, Claude Fanger, 4510A Manchester avenue, also were injured, as was a passenger with Ayres, DeWayne Dalton, 4257A Swan avenue.

Both drivers were booked on charges of reckless driving, and Ayres also on a charge of driving when intoxicated.

Donald Schmoll, of Crestwood, and Arthur Rueck, of Columbia, Ill., were injured when a car driven by Rueck collided with another near Indianapolis yesterday. The two occupants of the other machine, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Henderson, of Indianapolis, were killed.

Sheriff's deputies said Rueck ran a red light. He was charged with driving when intoxicated and reckless homicide.

John Bohnsack, 1917 Warren street, was killed last night in a three-car collision near Cape Girardeau, Mo., on U. S. Highway 61. The Highway Patrol reported that Bohnsack passed an automobile on a hill at high speed and crashed into two others. The other drivers were injured only slightly.

SERVICES, PARADES HELD ON HOLIDAY

Parks Crowded With Picnickers — Barbecues Held in Yards.

(Picture in Everyday Magazine)

Services, parades and other ceremonies honoring the nation's war dead were held yesterday as St. Louisans observed the Memorial day holiday. For many persons the holiday will continue today and tomorrow.

Highways were crowded yesterday in an exodus of holiday travelers that began Wednesday night. Parks in the St. Louis area were crowded with picnickers despite cloudy weather and scattered showers. Many St. Louisans stayed home, enjoying backyard barbecues.

About 100 military, veterans' and other organizations took part in a parade through downtown St. Louis yesterday afternoon. Several thousand marchers participated.

Memorial Services Held.

Following the parade, memorial services were held at Soldiers Memorial. R. Adm. Charles J. LaBarge U.S.N.R. (Ret.), was the speaker.

Services in memory of 32,000 veterans buried at Jefferson Barracks National Cemetery were held yesterday morning. The program was sponsored by the Inter-Veterans Memorial Day Service Committee and started with a parade from the barracks railroad station to the cemetery.

Following the parade, Maj. Gen. Charles K. Gailey, Army chief of civil affairs-military government, was principal speaker at ceremonies held in the cemetery. A color guard was furnished by the 407th Infantry Regiment, Army Reserve.

Other ceremonies planned yesterday included Catholic services in three cemeteries and a memorial service honoring Union veterans of the Civil War. Parades and other ceremonies were held in a number of communities near St. Louis in Missouri and Illinois.

Flags Displayed.

Many families took note of the memorial nature of the holiday by displaying American flags at their homes.

City, county, state and federal offices and most businesses were closed. Some remained closed today, giving many employes their first three-day holiday of the season.

Schools and the public library and its branches were closed. Only special delivery mail was delivered yesterday and there was only one collection of mail.

OPERATIONS AT CITY JAIL CRITICIZED BY GRAND JURY

Established regulations of the City Jail have not been practiced uniformly throughout the three daily shifts, the April term circuit court grand jury stated in its final report to Circuit Judge Franklin E. Reagan, Thursday.

An attempted jail break was investigated by the grand jury. Following their investigation two prisoners, George Reece and Glen Douglas were indicted and charged with attempted jail break.

Chief of Detectives James E. Chapman investigated the jail break attempt and his officers arrested Mrs. Verlena Jean Harden, 4500 block of Newberry terrace, who admitted, police said, she provided three hack saw blades used by Reece last May 7.

TUCKER WARNS AGAINST CUTS IN PARKS BUDGET

Extensive cuts in the city's proposed budget for parks and recreational purposes would cause the closing of municipal swimming pools and several playgrounds and could contribute to an increase in juvenile delinquency, Mayor Raymond R. Tucker said last night.

The Mayor, in a television interview, said any budget could be cut but that the impact on the community of such a cut had to be considered.

Two aldermen, Anton Niemeyer and Clinton J. Watson, have proposed a $250,000 reduction in the proposed budget for park and recreation purposes, and other cuts in the budget for other purposes, as a substitute for raising the revenues necessary to equal the proposed budget.

TWO GERMAN BOYS GETTING USED TO NEW HOME IN U.S.

Life for the last three days has been so fast for two little boys just arrived from West Germany that even television, for the first time, was not much to marvel at. The boys, Lothar, 5 years old, and his brother Martin, 4, are the adopted children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Riegel of Hazlewood.

Last Wednesday they were taken from an orphanage near Kiel, put on a plane at Hamburg and flown to Chicago, nonstop. The next hop seemed very short — Chicago to St. Louis. For the Riegels it was a dream come true, a reunion with the boys with whom they spent six weeks in Germany last year.

The Riegels' own son, Carl Jr., 12, himself just home from Missouri Military Academy, Mexico, has taken charge. He was first up today, and got breakfast for himself and the other boys.

Language is no problem, says Mrs. Riegel. She already knows about 100 words of German, and is learning more.

days, May 19 through the 22, for the school board without pay.

Time Slips Were In.

Grimes told a reporter the plumbing contractor had telephoned him and asked if he had a man available for four days' work. He said he let Eisele take the job, although his time slips for the four days concerned already had gone in so that the payroll for the two-week period could be made up.

The plumbing foreman said Eisele worked four days the following week on which the records show him as being off work. Grimes said time slips frequently have to go in advance because of the payroll deadline, but that, if an employe takes time off during the period covered by the advance time slips, he is marked off for a corresponding time in the following pay period. following pay period, but actually works.

William Williams, an electrician, readily told of working on the McCaffery house, being paid by a contractor, who hired him. He said he did not receive a pay check from the school board for that week, as he had been laid off.

Apparently intrigued by the suggestion that somebody might be getting double pay, Williams said:

"I'm just a peon and do what I'm told, but I'm not expecting two checks for that work."

Worked for Contractor.

Efforts to reach a second electrician who worked at the McCaffery house, Leo Dougherty, 5267 Genevieve avenue, were unsuccessful. His wife, however, said he had worked for the private contractor on the McCaffery residence during the week he had been laid off by the school board.

She said he had received his full two-week pay check, but that a mistake had been made. Someone from the payroll department telephoned her last Monday and told her a mistake had been made, she said, but she already had cashed the check. She said her husband will receive a check for but one week's work during the current pay period.

John Kavanaugh, a plasterer, 5538 Gresham avenue, said he had worked a total of seven days on the McCaffery house, May 12 through the 16 and May 19 and 20, and had been paid by Dr. McCaffery. His last pay check from the school board included pay for some of the time he was working for Dr. McCaffery, he said, but he believes it was a mistake which would be corrected on the next check.

A hearing on the suit filed to oust Dr. McCaffery has been set for June 12 by Circuit Judge David J. Murphy, who issued an order for Dr. McCaffery to show cause why he should not be removed from office.

SOFT DRINK BOTTLING STRIKE THREATENED

Effort Being Made to Avert Walkout Monday in St. Louis Area.

A last-minute effort to avert a strike of soft drink bottlers on Monday was being made today by State Senator Edward J. Hogan, business representative of the bottlers' union.

Picketing by the 250 bottlers probably could halt distribution of soft drinks in the St. Louis area, because of refusal of other union employes to cross the lines. Stores are reported to have stocked up in anticipation of an interruption of deliveries.

Senator Hogan said any new offer received from employers before the present contract expires at midnight would be presented to the members of Soft Drink & Mineral Water Workers Local 303, "if it is better than what we have received." Hogan indicated the union is seeking individual offers from the 12 bottling firms, following a stalemate in negotiations with an employers' committee.

The union originally demanded an increase of 35 cents an hour over three years, with 10 cents going toward a pension fund. Hogan said today the bottlers would accept 20 cents for one year, including 10 cents for pension. The present wage scale is $2.30 an hour after six months.

Employers were reported to have offered 20 cents, in a three-year contract, with the pension to be included. Armin F. Oberbeck, chairman of the employers' negotiating committee, said Hogan was asked to submit the offer to a secret ballot, but this was not done. Senator Hogan told the Post-Dispatch the men had "voted to strike and know what they want."

Major soft drink firms which would be affected by a strike are Coca-Cola, Pepsi-Cola, Seven-Up, Royal Crown, Canada Dry, Vess Bottling Co., and B-1.

Distribution of soft drinks was interrupted in the city and county in 1955 by a bottlers' strike in a wage dispute.

STRIKE HALTS NEWSPAPERS IN PHILADELPHIA, CAMDEN

PHILADELPHIA, May 31 (AP)—The Teamsters union, successful last night in halting circulation of the Philadelphia Inquirer, today extended their strike to the Philadelphia Bulletin and the Camden (N.J.) Courier-Post. Pickets marched at the entrance of all three newspaper buildings.

Affected were approximately 362 drivers; 170 each employed by the Bulletin and Inquirer and 22 with the Courier-Post, just across the Delaware river.

The Bulletin and Courier-Post will publish today, but not distribute.

The strikers—members of Local 628—quit in a contract dispute. Their agreement with the three newspapers expired at midnight Thursday. Drivers average $94.50 for a 37½-hour week. They are seeking an undisclosed pay boost plus other contract changes.

TURKISH EDITOR SENTENCED

ANKARA, May 31 (AP)—Fatin Fuat Tezer, editor of the official organ of Turkey's ruling Democrat party, was given a prison sentence and fined yesterday on charges of slandering two editors of a newspaper opposing the government.

A special press court which previously has devoted most of its attention to government opponents, sentenced Tezer to 14 months in prison. He also was ordered to pay a fine of 2333 Turkish lira ($833). He was freed pending an appeal.

CLEVELAND HIGH SENIOR DROWNS AT CLASS OUTING

Wesley W. Johnson, 17, Is Victim at Sunnen Lake — Attempt at Rescue Fails.

Wesley Walter Johnson, 17 years old, drowned yesterday at an outing of the Cleveland High School graduating class on Sunnen Lake, about nine miles west of Potosi, in Washington county.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, 212A Bowen street, was swimming with several companions about 100 yards from shore when he suddenly went under the water.

A classmate, Joseph Whitworth, grabbed Johnson but was unable to hold on as the youth struggled in the water. The body was recovered about two hours after the drowning, which occurred at 1:30 p.m.

More than 100 members of the graduating class were spending Memorial Day at Trout Lodge on the big lake. Sheriff Thomas Allen of Washington county said the water was choppy and dangerous.

Johnson and his companions had become separated from other members of their party before the accident. His father is a driver for the Anheuser-Busch brewery.

EX-CONVICT SHOOTS MAN HE ACCUSED OF FLIRTING

Police today were seeking a former convict who tried to force another man to his knees in a plea for mercy and then shot him yesterday.

Harold Trago, taken to City Hospital with a bullet wound of the arm, said the man accused him of flirting with a woman in the Paddock Bar, 4040 Olive street. Later the pair met outside and the man drew a pistol and ordered Trago to his knees. Instead, Trago tried to start his automobile and was shot. The assailant fled.

Trago, a painting contractor, lives at 4903 Lansdowne avenue. Following the shooting he drove to the entrance of the Park Plaza Hotel and reported he had been shot resisting a holdup in Forest Park. Police, who had heard about the shooting outside the Paddock Bar, questioned him and learned the true story.

CONDEMNATION SUIT FILED FOR FEDERAL BUILDING SITE

Suit to condemn the city block bounded by Market, Walnut, Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets as the site of the new St. Louis federal office building was filed Thursday in United States district court.

The tract, immediately west of Kiel Auditorium measures 330 by 325 feet and contains eight parcels. The suit, filed by United States Attorney Harry Richards, names 30 defendants as owners and affected parties.

Estimated over-all cost of the project is $13,760,000. The site had been selected by the General Services Administration, after the Government failed to receive suitable land offer bids. Construction is expected to begin next year.

HEALTH OFFICE DEDICATION

The new East Side Health District office and clinic building at 638 North Twentieth street, built at a cost of $500,000 was opened with a dedication service Thursday.

Among those taking part in the dedication were Francis Touchette, chairman of the board of health; Dr. Roland R. Cross, director of the state health department, and Dr. C. D. Head Jr., of the United States Public Health Service.

14 CHARGED IN BRAWL AT INTERSECTION

4 Injured in Fight Between Occupants of Pickup Truck and 2 Autos.

Warrants charging affray were issued today at Clayton against 14 of 20 young men arrested following a brawl yesterday at Gravois road and Lindbergh boulevard in St. Louis county as they were returning from holiday outings. Four persons were injured in the fight.

Magistrate Leslie T. Lewis, who issued the warrants, set a hearing on the charges for next Wednesday. He set bond at $1000 for each of the 14.

Two of those arrested were released without any charge filed against them. The other four, all juveniles, were turned over to county juvenile authorities.

County police reported the fight developed after words had been exchanged by occupants of a pickup truck and two automobiles. Beer bottles and other objects were reported thrown by some of the participants.

Occupants of the truck, driven by Bardell C. Sawyer, 25 years old, a truck driver, of the 3800 block of South Main street, told police beer bottles were thrown at the vehicle by occupants of one of the automobiles.

Police said the windshield of a car driven by Gilbert A. Kirchhoefer, 19, a sheet metal worker, 6203 Dardanella avenue, Pine Lawn, was shattered by an object thrown from the truck.

Both vehicles and a third machine, driven by Jerry Valenti, 18, 3230 Bailey avenue, an employe of a printing firm, were eastbound in Gravois. The occupants of the car said some of the men in the truck had made obscene remarks and waved a tire tool and knife at them.

The fight erupted when the truck stopped after one of its passengers, Charles L. Noble, 17, 3900 block of South Main street fell from the vehicle as it turned south in Lindbergh.

Police said a softball bat, a two-foot length of rubber hose with lead in one end, tire tools and beer bottles, as well as fists, were used in the fight. The fight halted after county Patrolman Billy Andrews arrived on the scene and fired one shot from his revolver in the air. Police in six other cars assisted.

Four participants were taken to County Hospital for treatment. They were: David P. Roche, 17, 3500 block of North Jefferson avenue; his brother, Edward, 20; John E. Ruppert, 17, 3700 block of Kosciusko street, and Richard A. Merli, 17, 3943 South Main. All remained in the hospital overnight for treatment of lacerations of the head or neck and were released to county police this morning.

Cumulative sales since Jan. 1 were 3 per cent below the corresponding 1957 period. Sales were down 2 per cent in the four-week period ending May 24.

In the entire Eighth Federal Reserve district sales were up an estimated 12 per cent last week and were down an estimated 5 per cent for the period since Jan. 1.

AUTO AND TRUCK COLLIDE IN TEXAS; SEVEN ARE KILLED

RANGER, Tex., May 31 (AP)—An automobile-truck crash killed seven persons today—a young Fort Worth (Tex.) couple, four of their five children and the truck driver. The collision occurred on a narrow bridge 10½ miles east of Ranger in north central Texas.

State Highway Patrolman Al White said four of the seven victims burned to death. Two others were hurled from their smashed vehicles.

The crash, on a U.S. Highway 80 bridge over Bear creek, happened in drizzling rain. White said a big tractor-trailer truck apparently veered off the right side of the road near a curve, tried to pull back on the paving and veered left in front of the westbound station wagon.

The dead were identified as Virl Dawson, the truck driver; Charles Everett Alkire, 27, Fort Worth; Mrs. Jimmie Alkire, 26, his wife, their children, Jimmy Charles, 10, Debra Ann, 7, Dora Lynn 3½ and Darrell, 2½.

UNION AND WESTERN UNION TALK, STRIKE SET TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, May 31 (UPI) — Representatives of Western Union and the AFL-CIO Commercial Telegraphers Union continued contract talks today under threat of a strike at midnight.

The union, which bargains for all of Western Union's 30,000 employes outside the New York City area, has threatened to walk out at midnight when the old contract expires.

R. A. Morgan, assistant vice president of the firm, said progress was made during the four weeks of negotiations.

"We are very close on money now," he said, "but pensions are the big sticking point."

The union reduced its wage increase demand from 18 to 11 cents an hour. But it has refused to budge on its demand for increased pensions. Except for messengers, Western Union employes average $1.81 an hour.

10 FRENCH SOLDIERS, FOUR OTHERS KILLED IN PLANE

PARIS, May 31 (AP)—All 14 persons aboard were killed early today in the crash of an Air France DC-3 in Algeria. Ten of the dead were French soldiers.

An official of the airline said the plane crashed about six miles southwest of Molieres. It was bound from Algiers south to Tindouf and crashed about one hour after takeoff.

In addition to the soldiers, the plane carried a crew of three and an agent of Air France. Cause of the crash was not immediately known.

BABY FATALLY BURNED; MOTHER DOZED SMOKING

Parent Awakens to Find Couch Burning After Going to Sleep With Child in Arms.

A 2-month-old girl died today in a fire which was started when her mother, Mrs. James B. Blair, 1000 Chouteau avenue, fell asleep smoking a cigarette.

Mrs. Blair told police she lay on a couch in the living room with the child, Linda Kay, in her arms. She lit a cigarette about 2 a.m., she said, and dozed off.

The mother said she was awakened about 5:40 a.m. by heat and smoke. The couch was on fire and Linda Kay already was badly burned. Mrs. Blair called to her husband, who was sleeping in the next room.

Blair grabbed the child from the burning couch, but Linda Kay was pronounced dead at City Hospital. Firemen extinguished the flames. Damage was estimated at only $25.

Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused by a fire which swept through the Walgreen drugstore in the Crestwood Plaza Shopping Center early yesterday.

Crestwood policemen, who discovered the blaze, said it apparently had been smoldering for two or three hours. The fire was believed to have been caused by an overloaded electric line.

Firemen from Crestwood and Affton were handicapped by intense heat and choking smoke when they battled the blaze. William Kramer, member of the Crestwood department, was treated at St. Joseph Hospital, Kirkwood, for smoke inhalation.

Stock in basements of nearby Sears-Roebuck Co. and Baker's Shoe Store was damaged by smoke and water. The damage estimate was made by Marshal Al Steimel of Crestwood.

ANOTHER VOLCANO ERUPTS ON FAYAL ISLAND IN AZORES

HORTA, Azores, May 31 (AP)—Ashes from the De Capelinhos volcano spurted 12,000 feet into the air yesterday while Fayal island was still digging out from another series of quakes and eruptions.

Ashes fell on some areas badly damaged when Calderia volcano in the center of the island spewed forth ash and lava for 10 days earlier this month.

The eruption of De Capelinhos, on the western side of the island, was as usual heralded by a series of tremors and rumblings. Refugees were sent across the island to Horta for emergency food and shelter.

INCREASE IN U.S. WORKERS

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP) — Senator Harry F. Byrd (Dem.), Virginia, announced yesterday that civilian employes of the Federal Government increased 9255 in April as compared with March. However, the total was under the figure for April, 1957.

Byrd listed the total as 2,333,202 in April, compared with 2,323,947 in March and 2,395,764 in April a year ago.

Can War Be Limited?

It is to be hoped that the joint State Department-Pentagon study of the nation's capabilities and needs for limited war means that this part of our defense bulwark is to be strengthened. It has been too weak for too long.

What is known as a limited or brushfire type of war, fought with conventional arms or, at worst, small tactical atomic weapons, is certainly preferable to any all-out nuclear war. But ever since Secretary of State Dulles promulgated massive retaliation, there has been reason to fear that the United States counts far more on being ready for a nuclear war than a brushfire emergency.

There is ample evidence that our Strategic Air Force could—unless hit hard by interceptors and guided missiles—destroy Soviet Russia twice over. But we lack the conventional forces, particularly air-lift, for a limited action. So we might have to choose between launching a nuclear war or pulling out of some corner of the globe instead of meeting a show of force on equal terms.

A nuclear bomber stalemate exists between the free world and Soviet Russia today. The chances are that this stalemate will continue as long-range ballistic missiles attain perfection. They lend themselves to a concealed weapon system that could destroy an attacking nation even if the defending nation were laid in ruins. So both for today and tomorrow, the aggressor's best chance of success would lie in swift and limited strikes with conventional forces. Nuclear retaliation would be unthinkable against such nibbling aggression here and there.

The study now being made, which was ordered last year by the National Security Council, is said to examine in detail a score of areas to determine the size and composition of forces to meet successfully any local aggression.

The Army announced last week that it had organized a "fire brigade" corps of paratroopers and infantrymen that could move swiftly to any spot in the world. But because of the constant turnover in personnel and the need to supply trained troops to units overseas, this fire brigade right now may be mostly a paper corps of very limited value.

Some pessimistic light is thrown on the fire brigade theory through the release of Secretary of Defense McElroy's testimony on limited wars before the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee last April. He made clear that he believed any struggle with Soviet Russia would inevitably be "an all-out" war. He also developed another theory when he testified that "as we go further with nuclear tactical weapons, the size of the forces which will be needed is less."

That brings up the nemesis of limited warfare: If very small tactical atomic weapons are used, are not larger and larger ones to be dragged out as each side strives to retaliate more and more effectively? The answer seems to be that if we had to fight it would be better to fight along this graduated scale, hoping that it would never reach the point where a hydrogen-bomb holocaust was inevitable.

Until such time as means of disarmament can be effected, it would appear that our present nuclear strength, plus an ability to meet any threat of a brushfire war, are needed as the best available deterrent to aggression. But we must also recognize, and hope that any potential aggressor recognizes, that war of any kind, limited or otherwise, is too great a risk to be incurred.

Close to a Runaround

Senator Douglas is not far wrong in calling the unemployment compensation extension bill the "runaround of 1958." Instead of doing the simple and effective thing of providing federally financed extension of payments for a certain period to unemployed persons who have exhausted their benefits, Congress has offered optional loans to such states as wish to take advantage of them.

But the conditions of the loans are such that many states will be under pressure not to extend benefits. Missouri's Gov. Blair, for example, has already served notice that he does not favor an extension. In order to repay the federal loan, Missouri might have to increase payroll taxes on employers in future years. Furthermore, the Governor thinks the state cannot constitutionally borrow from the Federal Government for this purpose.

If the recession ends as quickly as everybody hopes it will, the effects of this "runaround" need not be too disastrous. Men going back to work will not require extended unemployment benefits, and the issue will become moot. But if joblessness persists or grows worse, Congress will have aggravated the situation by withdrawing a prop to declining incomes at a time when it is needed most. This is a risk which should have been avoided.

The emergency bill made no pretense of fundamentally reforming the standards for the unemployment compensation system—something that has needed doing ever since President Eisenhower recommended it in his first term. Senator Kennedy and others have been trying in vain to put through a basic improvement of the system. While it was justifiable to keep this issue separate from that of an emergency extension, basic improvement is needed and should be high on the agenda for future action.

Congress Should Try Tito's Shoes

There is an old adage which suggests putting yourself in the other fellow's shoes before questioning his motives or criticizing his acts. Has it ever occurred to some members of Congress to put themselves in Marshal Tito's shoes before adding meaningless humiliation to the aid they vote for his country?

What prompts this observation is word from Belgrade that it will reject further American help of any kind if Congress persists in questioning Yugoslavia's independence. Yet the House, in voting $1,800,000 for Yugoslavia, attached a proviso that this will be canceled within 90 days of the passage of the foreign aid bill unless the President finds Yugoslavia to be "truly independent and free of Soviet domination."

There ought to be no serious question on this score in the mind of anybody who reads the newspapers and therefore knows of the latest attacks launched on Tito from virtually all Communist capitals, and his refusal to be intimidated by them—even though he knows that the Red bloc can exert considerable economic pressure against this country.

The proviso in the aid bill, further, is an insult to President Eisenhower. It implies that he might recommend aid to Tito without being sure about his genuine independence of the Kremlin. And why should Congress vote the money if it is not itself reasonably sure on this point?

The amendment gives the Russians another chance to tell Tito that he is backing the wrong horse. And that is what Khrushchev may have had in mind when, in spite of recent denunciations, he sent warm birthday greetings to Belgrade.

Black Eye for the Schools

The president of the St. Louis School Board, Dr. James J. McCaffery, exercised the poorest possible judgment in using school system employes to work on his son's house. Even if he paid for their labor, as he alleges, he is guilty of a serious impropriety—one which would be grounds for dismissal if he were an employe of the system and not an elected official.

Two of his colleagues on the board charge that there is more to this business than Dr. McCaffery admits. Board Members Louis H. Antoine and Daniel L. Schlafly have taken the virtually unprecedented step of asserting in petitions formally filed in Circuit Court that the plasterers, plumbers, carpenters and electricians who worked on Dr. McCaffery's son's house were paid $578 in tax money for the work. Accordingly they ask the court to oust Dr. McCaffery from office and require him to make restitution.

Why did Members Antoine and Schlafly go to court with this matter instead of bringing it to the attention of their colleagues? Only Mr. Antoine and Mr. Schlafly can answer for themselves, but it seems likely from the record of the past several years that the majority of the board as presently constituted would have ignored them.

Accordingly, Messrs. Antoine and Schlafly have sought redress in the courts, where findings will be based on evidence and not political connections. Dr. McCaffery will have his day in court. On June 12 he will be given an opportunity to show cause why he should not be removed. St. Louisans will withhold judgment on that point until then. But whether he deserves to be ousted or not, he has given the school system a black eye that ought to have been avoided.

The Sherman Adams Curtain

Is Sherman Adams improperly manipulating quasi-judicial regulatory decisions at Washington?

His role in alleged interference with the Federal Communications Commission over several contested television cases brings the question to the fore with growing emphasis.

Congress, which is the public's only official medium of investigation, has been consistently defied by Mr. Adams when his activities entered the scope of its inquiries.

Technically, the presidential assistant has been on sound constitutional ground. Under our form of government the Executive cannot permit itself to be held accountable to the Legislative.

Ethically and practically, it would seem to be something else again. Mr. Adams is appearing, repeatedly, as a principal in governmental matters which properly come within the scope of legislative investigation.

He persuaded the Securities and Exchange Commission to take the unprecedented recess which deferred the damaging disclosure of Adolphe H. Wenzell's role in the Dixon-Yates case until after Congress had had a chance to vote on legislation vital to that deal.

Mr. Adams invoked his executive immunity on that occasion, and the public's knowledge of his conduct of its business is as inadequate in that regard as it is in regard to the pending television inquiry.

The presidential assistant owes it to the President to keep confidential the confidential business of the Executive branch. It seems to us that he also owes the citizens of the nation an accounting of activities which for the safeguarding of the public interest must be subject to thorough investigation.

Where Timidity Will Hurt

Is the County Board of Education willing to propose an effective plan for school district reorganization?

Paul A. Leupold, the board's president, says "We'll do something." This does not necessarily mean that the board will do something that markedly advances equalization of educational opportunities. While there are several methods of achieving this end, only one is available under the law to the County Board. That is the method of school district consolidation. Because of the uneven distribution of taxable property in the county, major consolidations will be necessary if equalization is to be approached. Districts with high property valuations per pupil will have to be grouped with those with lower assessed values.

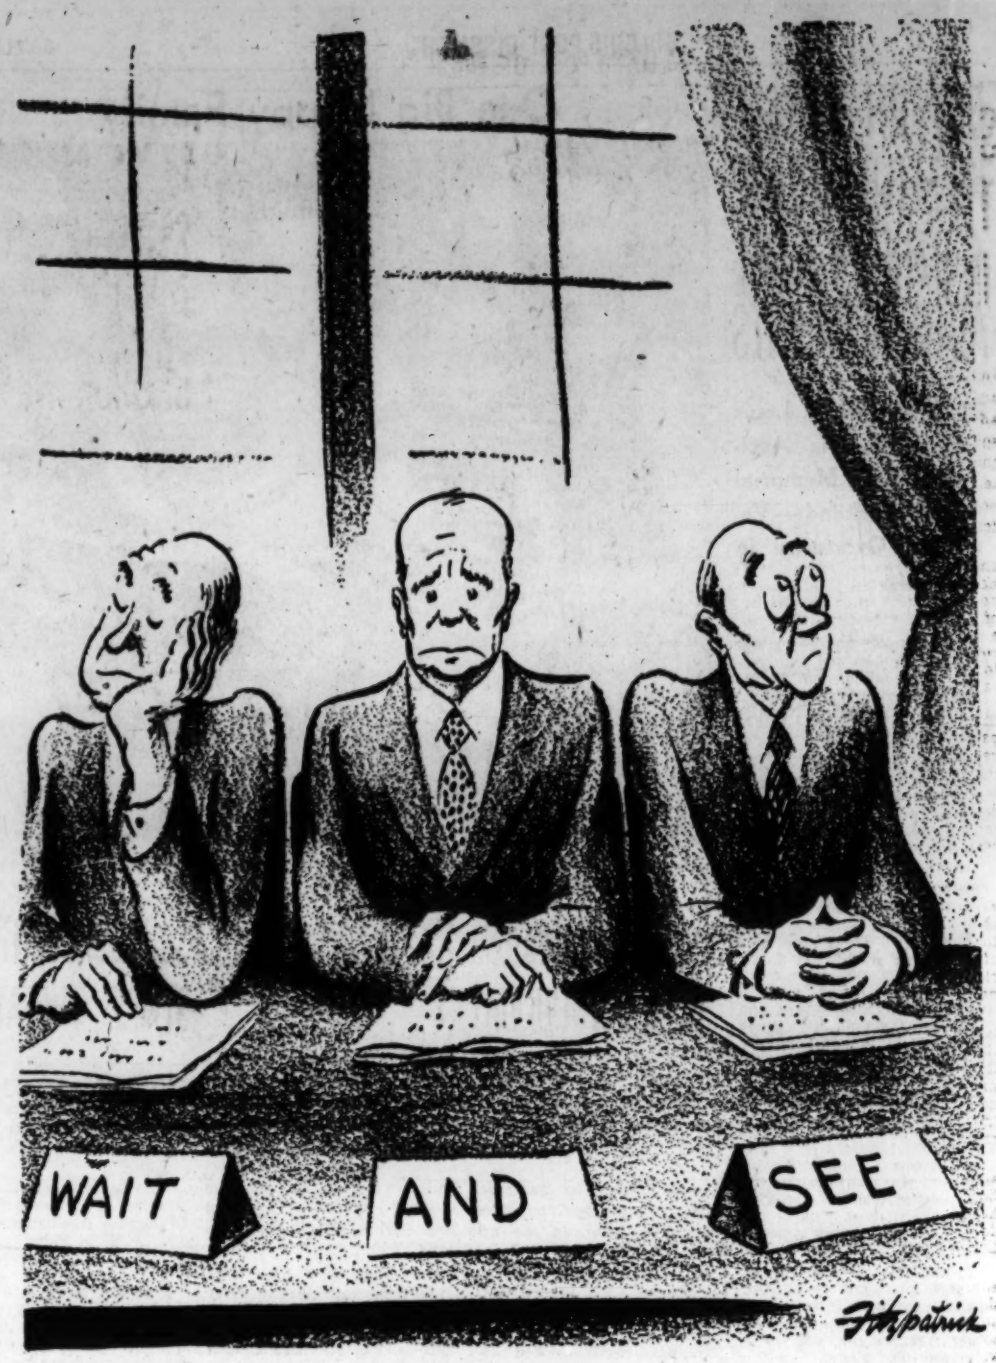

If the Board objects to the Miller plan for five districts, then it should devise an alternative plan which aims at the same targets. In addition to equalizing the valuations available for school support, the five-district plan is intended to create districts large enough to justify a complete educational program, and to supply sufficient bonding capacity to build all the classrooms needed.

Clues to Easter Island

A small news item from London may portend the solving of one of the strangest of the world's riddles. It was the report from Moscow that Soviet scholars in the Leningrad Museum of Ethnography and Anthropology have deciphered part of the writing on Easter Island's prehistoric stone tablets. The broadcast said that Russian scientists would soon complete the first full version of the writings and pictures found on that easternmost outpost of Polynesian life and culture.

Little Easter Island, 2000 miles west of Chile, with its still unexplained grotesque stone faces, has been a mystery ever since Dutch Admiral Roggeveen landed there on Easter Sunday, 1722. How did this flyspeck in the South Pacific come to be inhabited by some 6000 people? Why did they quarry out their weird statues, consisting of the upper half of a body, the elongated head and dished, upturned face, and long ears? How did they move the statues—the heaviest is estimated to weigh 50 tons—to the island's slopes so the odd faces might maintain their lonely vigils of the sea?

The Soviet scholars may not have all the answers or even most of them. But if they come up with even a partial explanation of Easter Island, its people and their puzzling sculptures, they will have added something to the world's knowledge of itself. It will not receive the headlines that went to Sputniks I and II, but some people will be hardly less interested.

Why Sarah McClendon Asks President Eisenhower Those Sharp Questions

Josephine Ripley in the Christian Science Monitor

Sarah McClendon, Washington correspondent for a string of newspapers from Texas to New England, attends the President's press conferences regularly; always asks a question, always sits up front under the President's nose where she cannot be ignored.

Of course, it would be hard to ignore Sarah anywhere. "The blonde bombshell of the profession," one newspaper called her recently. She is a hard-working, vocal, aggressive newspaperwoman.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

And if the women are devious, as reported, you can't prove it by Sarah. Or by most newspaperwomen, as a matter of fact, when it comes to asking questions. Men correspondents may pussyfoot around a delicate point, or hesitate to put the question at all—but not the women of the President's press conference.

Sarah is a leading exponent of the bluntness technique. She asks the question that is on everyone's mind, and in the fewest one-syllable words. It is often her bull's-eye query which scores the day's headline.

All this has paid off for Sahah, who has run up her newspaper representation from two papers several years ago to 13 today.

Newspaper correspondents, in asking a question at the President's press conference, must first identify themselves with the paper they represent. Sarah, one week, declares she is from the El Paso Times; next week, from the San Antonio Light or the Sherman (Tex.) Democrat. Now that her fame has spread and her papers multiplied, it may even be the Camden (N.J.) Courier Post or the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader. This varied representation once caused the President to turn the tables on Sarah with a blunt question of his own.

"Do you get fired every week and join another paper the next week?" he asked.

"No, sir," replied Sarah, ignoring the general laughter. "I try to give representation to all the papers I work for." And she went on to ask her question.

The President is frequently amused by Sarah and her questions, occasionally irritated. It was a pointed query from Sarah on his Pentagon reorganization program which touched off the President's recent rare show of temper.

Sarah may ask questions to be heard; she may ask regional questions which bring patronizing laughter from some of her colleagues; but it's serious business to her.

For a close-up of the President from where she sits, and the value of the President's press conference from her point of view, here it is in Sarah's own words:

"I don't make the President angry. He does that to himself. Often, I don't honestly see why." An important thing about the President, she feels, is that "he is extremely likeable personally."

Of his press conference, she says: "To reporters, a press conference is either good, bad, or fair, depending on how much productive news they get out of it. I have seen some of his (the President's press conferences) that were not so good, and from others I have come away actually lifted and thrilled at his expressive leadership and true patriotism. . . ."

Sarah feels the President is a man who "believes so strongly in his heart that he is right, because he has the desire to do what is morally right for the country, that it hurts him to the quick for anyone to doubt him. It seems sort of unjust to him. And this is why he gets angry."

Eternal vigilance being the price of liberty, Sarah firmly believes that the presidential press conference offers modern-day reporters an opportunity and a responsibility to exercise this kind of vigilance in their country's behalf.

As she sees it: "Even though we like Mr. Eisenhower personally, even if we are great fans of his politically; and even should our papers be for him—some of mine are and some are not, and some are at times for and at times against—even so, it is our duty as reporters to observe, to inquire into, to check on, to point out to this man, and to get his observations on the issues of the day."

She feels that "history owes Mr. Eisenhower a great debt for making possible and developing the press conference as it is today." And "if it were not for him, we would never have had the press conference live, on radio and television.

"What other man in history has allowed himself to be so clearly shown in print and on the screen in this way? That alone takes a mighty big personality. This whole operation of the press conference he has given to the American people."

"Remember," she adds, "he does not have to hold these press conferences."

No, he does not have to, but he does, and it is greatly to his advantage—just as it is to Sarah's.

Congressmen Favor Reforms, But . . . From The Milwaukee Journal

In a legislative body, most notably in the Congress of the United States, there is a world of difference between private sentiment for a proposition among individual members and formal enactment of it by the body.

A case study of this phenomenon has been made by the unofficial research agency Congressional Quarterly. It confidentially polled members of Congress on four suggested rules for stricter governance of their own official conduct. Returns were favorable on all four—overwhelmingly so on two—yet none of the four is likely to be enacted!

The most impressive agreement was on the demand that congress require disclosure of expense moneys drawn, both in dollars and in "counterpart" funds, by members traveling abroad on official business. Of 155 Senators and Representatives replying, 89 per cent think this should be done.

There was almost equal weight of private opinion — 88 per cent — that any communication between a member and a regulatory agency on a pending case should be made part of public file on the case.

There was 70 per cent agreement among those replying that the abuse of proxy voting in committees ought to be curbed, to induce alertness and responsibility, discourage absenteeism. And a majority—just barely, but still a significant 51 per cent—favored compulsory disclosure of members' income sources, as a check on conflicts of interest, such as Congress worries about everywhere else in government.

Congressional Quarterly put the same questions to a large cross-section of newspaper editors. Of 312 replying, it was no surprise that they turned in even larger majorities in favor—97, 93, 81 and 59 per cent, respectively. This merely tends to bear out that public thinking, as usual, is ahead of Congress.

Between Book Ends The Lourdes Story

SAINT BERNADETTE SOUBIROUS, by Francis Trochu. (Pantheon, 400 pgs., $4.95.)

The story of the Blessed Virgin appearing to Bernadette Soubirous in a grotto at Lourdes, France, has been told and retold many times since 1858. This biography by a French priest and biographer makes one aware with freshness and appeal of the tremendous import of what happened at the Massabielle 100 years ago. Perhaps part of Msgr. Trochu's success can be explained by the fact that physically he and Bernadette are countrymen.

St. Bernadette

He views with detachment and yet sympathy the bafflement and frustration of the authorities as the number of visitors to the grotto swells. The clergy are no less objectively treated as they shift from disinterest in Bernadette and her cause to whole-hearted support.

In his straightforward account of the 18 apparitions, the author adheres to the writings and records of relatives, friends, observers and officials. He follows the same procedure in writing about her life in the convent, avoiding conjecture and, with minor deviations, editorializing.

The last half of the book deals with Bernadette's 12 years as a nun. She was one set apart; as one of her superiors put it, "The Lourdes apparitions would not alone justify her reputation for sanctity."

Bernadette's spiritual notebooks show how she determined to seek sanctity. Msgr. Trochu traces her progress in the attempt to practice humility, obedience and charity to a heroic degree.

The conflict that developed between Bernadette and the mistress of novices is interesting because it is quite human. This nun seemed to feel that the Lourdes novice had failed to open her heart to her out of pride and stubbornness. Ostensibly to teach her humility, the superior treated Bernadette with a harshness that bordered on malice. Bernadette succeeded in mastering her resentment and submitted without complaint.

Bernadette's death at 35 is described movingly. Fifty-four years later she was canonized.

To Benefit the Family Farm

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Writer C.R. under the heading "Change on the Farm" says sentimentality continues to obscure "farm evolution"—and from there bases his argument on interpretations of recent columns of mine concerning agriculture.

May I point out that what is happening today in farming is not "evolution." Part is a deliberately directed trend toward bigness which is, in my unsentimental opinion, decidedly for the worse. It continues because it benefits a powerful few at the expense of a less influential many in agriculture. Thus we admit our inability to control the directions in which we travel.

I well recall opinions in America that Fascism and Communism represented "evolution" and were a natural "wave of the future." Fortunately some of us did not share these opinions—and today I do not agree that what is happening to farming is "evolution." It is mainly tragedy brought about by greed and stupidity.

Always I have stated I am not much concerned with what USDA calls the "small farmer;" that 45 per cent who are marginal, residential or part-time because of a job in town. These do little farming, produce less than 5 per cent of farm crops, are unaffected by any farm program.

My concern is for the good, adequately financed, efficiently operated family farm—with its $50,000 capital investment, requiring 600 or more days of work per year and producing 45 per cent of all crops. This is the farm chiefly hurt by today's conditions.

If C.R. thinks he will find many such farmers belly-aching on courthouse lawns, he simply doesn't know what real farming is. As to bosses, the farmer has a hundred of them: the deadlines imposed by plowing, planting, and harvest; by birth and death of animals; by the inevitable rolling cycle of the year. Failure to meet the deadlines is the surest road out of farming.

It isn't impossible to come up with a "well-thought-out program that will stand critical examination and (once they understand it) satisfy the majority of farmers." Let's face it, however, that any such program will be bitterly fought by a small but powerful minority of big land operators, their equally powerful farm organizations and representatives in Congress, and reactionary elements in the business community.

Yet such a program is possible. It would help all farmers instead of the 10 per cent who reap the chief benefits today, cut farm program costs by a large amount with a corresponding saving in taxes, rapidly eliminate surplus production, increase consumption of farm products at home and abroad.

Creating the program is not the problem. Selling it and getting it adopted and accepted is another story. Yet the farm problem is definitely "evolving" in this direction. One day we may see it solved. Leonard Hall

That Record Again

In reply to the letter of Bert A. Doering stating that "I invite attention to the record," if he will look a little deeper in the record it also states that our last depression originated under a Republican president, and it took F.D.R. eight years to get us on the road to recovery. We are now in another Republican Administration with our economic situation still on the decline. Mrs. G. B.

Cut Back the Curriculum

Thank you for bringing to our attention the words of J. E. Sigoloff of the St. Louis County Board of Education.

He says, "The time is fast coming when the people will realize they are going to have to give up a lot of things they have come to expect schools to furnish. We must begin thinking in terms of a hard core of education, not in terms of 'educating the whole child.'"

Witness the increased school tax levies which have had to be shoved down our throats at second and sometimes third elections. It is a hard core of educational administrators and their hangers-on who have not yet realized a change is due. The people are waking up again after a 15-year nap, and all they see are children so "well-rounded" they roll with every passing wind.

We do not need reorganized districts or more money. We need a stripping down to the bare educational essentials so we can see the bed-rock that will serve as foundation. The people are tired of shifting sands.

I hope more Sigoloffs will speak up in the future.

Charlene Depew Livsey Ferguson.

Diagnosis

What we are now experieneing is not a recession—it's a consumer strike! This is the way the consumer has of telling capital and labor: "Your prices are too high, you must lower them before you buy." Ed Balmer

STATE SEEKING TO TAKE OVER INSURANCE FIRM

The Security National Life Insurance Co., 4425 Hampton avenue, which the State Insurance Department charges is insolvent, will be taken over by the department Monday on a temporary basis, under a court order issued yesterday in Jefferson City.

State Insurance Superintendent C. Lawrence Leggett said he was placing his chief examiner, William 1. Hart, in charge of the insurance firm, pending a hearing Tuesday in Cole county circuit court of his suit to take over the company as receiver.

In his suit, Leggett asserted that examination of the company's records showed that its capital stock is impaired and the company is insolvent. Further transaction of business, he declared, would be "hazardous to its policyholders, or its creditors or to the public."

Aim is Rehabilitation.

Purpose of the suit, Leggett explained, is to rehabilitate the company. Hart was instructed to continue to accept payment of premiums and to pay valid claims, but not to accept any new business.

Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair issued the temporary injunction prohibiting Security National from seeking or writing new insurance business until next Tuesday, when the hearing will be held on the state's charges.

The company, which has an authorized capital of $100,000, has 1104 life insurance policyholders and about 7100 accident and health policyholders, Leggett said.

The insurance superintendent said the firm "has been slow in paying claims, principally on its accident and health policies." Numerous complaints were received from policyholders, Leggett added, and the company paid most claims only after he demanded that the company meet its obligations.

6-Week Examination.

The company's operations and records had been under examination by the state for about six weeks. Leggett conferred with the head of the insurance firm, Vaughn V. Moore, in his Jefferson City office Thursday before filing the suit.

Leggett said Moore disagreed with the state's charges and would contest the suit. The company president was served with a summons in the litigation by a specially-appointed deputy as Moore was waiting at the Jefferson City airport to take an airplane back to St. Louis.

The state insurance head asserted the St. Louis Better Business Bureau reported it had received numerous complaints from customers about the firm. Security National, he said, was organized as a stipulated premium company in 1947, and re-established as a regular life insurance firm after Moore acquired control of it several years later.

Blair to Seek Revision.

Earlier this week, Gov. James T. Blair said he would ask the next State Legislature for a complete revision of Missouri's insurance laws.

He said he planned to discuss the matter with Leggett, adding that "all companies in Missouri must be adequately financed and pay their claims, or get out."

Leggett said he asked the 1957 Legislature for a special appropriation of $25,000 for the employment of expert insurance law consultants to modernize the state insurance code. The proposed allotment was voted down in the House.

Bankrupt

Brussels meeting of the six powers was to discuss their common attitude toward the free trade area plan. France had prepared a memorandum which the other Europeans wanted modified to meet British views more nearly, but at the end of the discussion, Faure stated his government's position quite bluntly.

Implementation Doubtful.

France was verging on bankruptcy, he said, and it was pointless to discuss any further modifications in its counter-proposals on free trade. Moreover, although the European common market treaty is due to come into force on Jan. 1, 1959, the financial situation was so serious that France might not be able to implement these obligations.

It is too early for other European governments to have assessed this impact of the French crisis on their basic policies—but no government expects Gen. De Gaulle to take a more positive or liberal attitude than the outgoing Pflimlin government. The inevitable conclusion must be, therefore, that the slow but steady process of European integration is now to be halted, if not thrown into reverse.

15 HURT AS YOUNG RIOTERS DAMAGE EXCURSION BOAT

PENNSVILLE, N.J., May 31 (AP)—Fired up by alcohol, youthful rioters turned a holiday cruise down the Delaware river into pandemonium yesterday. They smashed equipment aboard a crowded excursion boat and injured 15 passengers.

The crew of "The State of Pennsylvania" had to turn fire hoses on the brawlers during the 35-mile trip downriver from Philadelphia.

Twenty state troopers and local policemen were waiting here for the vessel. They arrested 34 male passengers, about half of them Negro. Police at first thought the melee was a race riot but later said the fighters were egged on by alcohol, not bias.

CHALFONT, Pa., May 31 (AP)—About 200 Negro and white youths mixed it up yesterday in a free-for-all fight at Forest amusement park in this southeastern Pennsylvania community.

Police said they did not know as yet what set off the battle. About 20 youths were reported hurt, two of them seriously, in the 15-minute knife-flashing melee.

LISTED AS DEAD ON WAR PLAQUE, BUT HE'S ALIVE

AKRON, O., May 31 (UPI)—The name of Lloyd T. Winters of nearby Cuyahoga Falls will be chiseled today from the plaque listing the 1200 dead from World War II in Summit county. He's alive.

Winters, whose name is listed on the granite facade at Memorial hall at Akron University, said he was told of the error last week by a Postal Department co-worker, Dick Odeh. He checked. Sure enough, his name was there among the dead.

"Apparently the list was taken from one published which also listed my name in error," the 39-year-old Winters said today. He said he never was listed as missing during his service with the Thirty-seventh Infantry Division in the South Pacific.

"My wife, Florence, told me not to make a fuss," said Winters, "but I just don't think my name belongs there."

STATE BAR HEAD CITES LOW RATE OF DISBARMENTS

Only 65 lawyers, or three-thousandths of 1 per cent of the total number of practicing attorneys in the United States, were disbarred last year, Harry Gerhenson, St. Louis attorney and president of the Missouri Bar, said here Thursday night.

He addressed a joint meeting of Districts 9 and 11 of the Missouri Bar, composed of St. Louis and St. Louis county lawyers, at the Clayton Lodge of the Elks Club, 900 South Hanley road, Clayton. Gershenson praised the high professional standards of the legal profession. He said the bar association seeks to keep lawyers well informed concerning court decisions and court procedures as a means of encouraging improved legal service to the public.

The meeting also was addressed by Harry Kalven Jr., a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago Law School, who discussed "Jurors Are People." About 375 persons attended the meeting, the first joint session of the two districts.

NORMAN W. CALDWELL, S.I.U. PROFESSOR, DIES

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., May 31 (AP) — Norman W. Caldwell, professor of history at Southern University at Carbondale and an authority on Illinois history, died of a kidney ailment Thursday night.

He was the author of a book, "The French in the Mississippi Valley," and former chairman of the history department at the College of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Ark.

Prof. Caldwell, who served two terms as vice president of the Southern Illinois Historical Society, served as a writer and researcher with the Air Force in World War II. As such, he helped to prepare the history of the Air Force during that period. He also wrote articles on the German Air Force. He was 53 years old.

WARNINGS AGAINST OUTDOOR SEASON HAZARDS SOUNDED

Warnings against the health hazards of the "outdoor season" launched by yesterday's Memorial Day holiday were issued today by Dr. J. Earl Smith, St. Louis Health Commissioner.

One of the most serious hazards in rustic areas is the drinking water, he said. The purity of a supply at a country weekend cottage will be tested free of charge by the city's sanitation section, Room 62, Municipal Courts Building, which will furnish a sterilized bottle for the purpose. Boiling water for 10 minutes will render it safe, he said.

While milk sold in St. Louis must meet exacting health standards this is not always true in rural areas, he said. Other warnings had to do with acquiring a sun tan, swimming and driving in traffic.

SUBMARINE CREW'S ESCAPE A 'MIRACLE'

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

HONOLULU, May 31 (AP)—A naval officer said today it was a miracle that any of the eight officers or 84 crewmen escaped from the submarine Stickleback before it sank Thursday after being rammed by the destroyer escort Silverstein.

Capt. Paul C. Stimson, commander of Submarine Squadron Seven, praised the crews of both ships for saving all hands without injury or loss of life.

The last man from below decks, Chief Electrician's Mate Larry Hughes, Norton, Kan., was up to his shoulders in water as he started up the conning tower.

The $10,000,000 Stickleback sank in water two miles deep 19 miles southwest of here. It was on maneuvers with the destroyer escort.

Lt. Comdr. Q. R. Schulz, Racine, Wis., said his submarine had lost power just before the escort rammed it.

The Silverstein's skipper, Comdr. C. S. Swift of San Leandro, Calif., said the submarine's tower was sighted by a lookout only 100 yards off.

The impact came about 10 seconds after he gave the command to reverse engines. He moored alongside and took off the subamarine's crew. Damage to the Silverstein was minor.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 31—Maximilian Pilzer, concertmaster of the New York Philharmonic, collapsed and fell from the podium of the bandstand in Central Park last night when conducting a concert before nearly 4000 persons. He died on the way to a hospital.

The 68-year-old musician, who had been with the Philharmonic for three years, was also a composer. His death was believed to have been caused by a combination of the concussion caused by the fall and a heart condition.

He was conducting the first Naumburg Memorial concert of the season when he fell hitting his head on the platform. Police rushed to his assistance, bringing an oxygen tank, but he never recovered consciousness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ilona Pilzer, and a daughter.

ST. LOUISANS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH MERGER

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURGH, May 31—St. Louis churchmen are taking a prominent part in the General Assembly of the new United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

The top-ranking St. Louis churchman who has taken part here is not a Presbyterian but a Baptist pastor, the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches and pastor of Delmar Baptist Church. He arrived by plane at 4 a.m. Thursday to bring greetings from the National Council at 11 a.m.

The new Presbyterian church is one of the three largest Protestant bodies in the National Council. It was created Wednesday by merger of the old Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. and the old United Presbyterian Church. The General Assembly opened Wednesday with the formal consummation of union, and will close Wednesday. The Rev. Dr. Theophilus M. A. Taylor of Pittsburgh is moderator of the United Church.

Dr. William Lampe Attends.

A former national moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and a former St. Louis pastor, is attending this meeting. The Rev. Dr. William B. Lampe, who was moderator in 1945, was pastor of West Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, for 37 years. He is now assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Decatur, Ill. The Rev. Dr. Lampe has been attending the General Assembly of his church since 1913.

This assembly is a homecoming for the Rev. Dr. W. Sherman Skinner, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, St. Louis. He was pastor of East Liberty Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, before going to St. Louis three years ago. The Rev. Dr. Skinner will be guest preacher Sunday at Bellefield Presbyterian Church here.

The second-ranking officer of this assembly is a native of St. Louis, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia. He has been stated clerk (first administrative officer) of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and has been nominated for a five-year term for the same office in the new united church. The election is scheduled for Wednesday, and the Rev. Dr. Blake is the only nominee.

Lashlys Visit Assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob M. Lashly, members of Trinity Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, are visitors at the assembly. They have an especial interest in the church merger because their church took the same step five years in advance of the national bodies. Trinity Church has been a federation of old First United Presbyterian Church (the Lashlys' congregation) and old Kingshighway Presbyterian Church. The minister, the Rev. Dr. Eldon Clay Frye, also has attended this assembly.

"The merger of our two Presbyterian churches will work," Lashly told this reporter. "We set the pattern at Trinity Church, and we know it works. It will work as well on a national scale."

The Rev. H. Louis Patrick, former pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, is attending the assembly. He now is pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, Kansas City. Westminster Church is a Southern Presbyterian Church; the Kansas City church has been Northern Presbyterian, so now belongs to the new United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

St. Louis Executives Present.

St. Louis Presbytery's two executive officers are here; the Rev. Dr. Donald E. Zimmerman, executive of the presbytery, and the Rev. Herman M. Gross, executive secretary.

St. Louis commissioners (official representatives to the General Assembly) are the Rev. Dr. Theodore S. Smylie, pastor of Oak Hill Church; the Rev. Barney Ellis MacLean, Southampton Church; the Rev. Amons J. Niebruegge, Giddings-Boyle Church; M. Julius E. Giebler, 7525 Washington avenue, University City; John D. Hardy Jr., 6820 Robbins avenue, Pagedale; George Walka, 5842 Wabada avenue; Earl Salveter, 324 South Maple avenue, Webster Groves, and William Long, 8247 South Fay avenue, Berkeley.

The General Assembly carried out a full schedule yesterday. Uniting two historic Christian communions into one presents an enormous task of consolidation and administration, and the 1200 commissioners must dispose of scores of reports, elections and resolutions before adjournment.

Standing committees met from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and general assembly sessions were held at 2:30 and 8 p.m. A morning business session will be held today, with a youth rally at 8 p.m.

THE REV. MARTIN PIEKE O.S.B.

BISHOP CODY ORDAINS EIGHT BENEDICTINES

The Rev. Martin (Gerald) Pieke, O.S.B., of St. Louis was ordained Tuesday in the Basilica of the Immaculate Conception, Conception, Mo. Bishop John P. Cody of the Kansas City-St. Joseph diocese of the Catholic Church, formerly of St. Louis, ordained Father Martin and seven other Benedictine monks.

Father Martin is the son of Mrs. Bernard J. Pieke of 8610A Church road, St. Louis, and the late Mr. Pieke.

He will celebrate his first mass tomorrow at 11 a.m. at his home church, Holy Cross, 8115 Church road. His assistant priest at his first mass will be his pastor, Msgr. Nartin B. Hellriegel. The Very Rev. Maur Burbach, O.S.B., rector of Conception Abbey Seminary, will deliver the sermon.

Father Martin was born in St. Louis in 1932, and attended Holy Cross Parochial School, the high school at Conception Seminary, and St. Louis Preparatory Seminary. In 1952, he entered the Benedictine monastery of St. Pius X, then at Labadie, Mo., now at Pevely Mo. He made his profession as a Benedictine monk the next year, and returned to Conception Abbey to begin his studies in philosophy and theology. Three years later, he made his profession of vows.

Hardy Jr., 6820 Robbins avenue, Pagedale; George Walka, 5842 Wabada avenue; Earl Salveter, 324 South Maple avenue, Webster Groves, and William Long, 8247 South Fay avenue, Berkeley.

The General Assembly carried out a full schedule yesterday. Uniting two historic Christian communions into one presents an enormous task of consolidation and administration, and the 1200 commissioners must dispose of scores of reports, elections and resolutions before adjournment.

Standing committees met from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and general assembly sessions were held at 2:30 and 8 p.m. A morning business session will be held today, with a youth rally at 8 p.m.

MORMONS TO SET UP STAKE UNIT HERE

Members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in the St. Louis area will be organized into a stake tomorrow.

A stake in the Mormon church is a self-administered unit similar to a diocese, consisting of several wards or local congregations. The new stake will incorporate the present missions of north and south St. Louis, East St. Louis, Alton, Belleville and Rolla and will have a membership of nearly 2000.

The organization will be effected by Elders Harold B. Lee and Mark E. Petersen, members of the Church's Council of Twelve Apostles from Salt Lake City.

The St. Louis stake will be the second to be formed in the Church's Central States Mission. A similar organization was established by Elders Lee and Petersen in Kansas City in October 1956.

Stake officers, under a three-man presidency, and local leaders including a bishop and two counselors for each ward unit will be chosen.

The St. Louis stake will be the 265th such unit in the Mormon church which now numbers more than 1,500,000 members throughout the world.

ASSISTANT RABBI AT TEMPLE ISRAEL FOR FIRST TIME

Temple Israel, Kingshighway and Washington boulevard, has named Rabbi Arnold S. Task to be assistant rabbi, effective Aug. 1. He will assist Rabbi Ferdinand M. Isserman, who has been spiritual leader of the congregation since 1929.

Rabbi Task is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and will be ordained at Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, O., next Saturday. While a student, he has served congregations at Ishpeming, Mich., Sandusky, O., and Saginaw, Mich., and at Miami University Hillel Foundation, Oxford, O. He has also served as summer rabbi of Temple Emanuel, Chicago.

Rabbi and Mrs. Task are spending this weekend here as guests of Temple Irsael. Last night, the Sisterhood of Temple Israel gave a reception in their honor after Sabbath services in the temple. Rabbi Task will be the first assistant rabbi of Temple Israel in the congregation's 72-year history.

Miscounted Israelites.

PITTSBURGH, May 31 (AP)—In the current issue of the Journal of Biblical Literature, Dr. George E. Mendenhall of the University of Michigan cites extensive new findings to show that the number of Israelites in the desert after the exodus from Egypt was not the traditionally believed 600,000—but about 6000.

MISS MARTHA ANNE TARRANT

Miss Martha Anne Tarrant, a student nurse at Missouri Baptist Hospital, left here this week for Nigeria, West Africa, where she will serve as a medical missionary in a leper colony. She will remain there for the summer under sponsorship of the St. Louis Baptist Mission Board.

Miss Tarrant, a native of Springfield, Mo., will be a senior in the hospital's school of nursing next year. She won the 1957 Fechner Award for outstanding academic and practical achievement and was chosen for the West African mission by the Baptist Student Union in various colleges in Missouri.

The 21-year-old nurse will serve with other student nurses and medical missionaries in the leper colony and will return to the hospital here in September. She is one of three Missouri student nurses chosen to serve in this country and abroad this summer.

Cunningham's Bat Helps Cards Rise to Fifth; Brosnan Stops Mays

Boyer Has 2 Homers In Double Triumph

Today's Game

SAN FRANCISCO At St. Louis

CARDINALS

Batteries: San Francisco — Monzant and Schmidt; Cardinals—L. McDaniel and Smith.

By Jack Rice

There is a pitcher now with the Cardinals, Professor James Patrick Brosnan, capable of teasing Willie Mays when Willie has a bat in his hand and all the pitcher has is a baseball. It is not a magnificent accomplishment, but it is a sign of added hope, and this season the Redbirds have shown need of all the little encouragements they can get.

Prof. Brosnan is not actually a professor of anything. He just looks that way to other ball players because he reads books without pictures in them, and smokes a pipe and can keep it lit most of the time, and wears glasses. So they call him professor. Now it's evident the Cardinals can call him another working starter on their pitching staff.

Brosnan has been a Cardinal since May 20. The club got him from the Cubs, for Alvin Dark, and the pitcher's record was 3 and 4. He became a Cardinal winner for the second time yesterday in the second game of a doubleheader at Busch Stadium with a well-thought out, 8-to-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants and their boy Mays. The Cardinals took the first game, too. They won it, 7 to 6, in 10 innings as both sides infringed shamelessly on Khoury League patents.

So it wasn't altogether a neat day, but it looks gaudy in the standings. Playing before 30,461, the year's biggest crowd here, the Cardinals improved themselves, from seventh place to fifth, and now they're hardly any worse off than they were following Memorial day last year. They are seven games out of first place.

After May 30 in 1957 they were six and one-half games out, and in fifth place, but were only a game under .500 (18 and 19). They are three games under it, proving every consoling backward look does have its limitations and the progressives only look forward. Brosnan, for instance, can be a progressive. He already has caught up with the best record he has had in the majors.

He won five games in each of two seasons with the Cubs. He is 28, but baseball makes allowances for pitchers maturing more slowly than lesser artisans must in the game. Brosnan must be maturing, because he got by in the final innings without one of his major pitches, the slider.

He wore a blister on the second finger of his right hand. "I usually do," he said. "I guess I'll have to use the slider less. How much was I using it today? Oh, I'd say at least 40 per cent. I think Willie Mays was keeping a tab on me, and the slider. He kept coming up, looking for it, and he muttered at me every time he went out, because I wouldn't pitch it to him." Brosnan confused Mays by keeping a promise of nothing but fast balls. Never trust a pitcher who keeps his promise.

Mays had four hits in five times at bat, in the first game, and raised his average 11 points, to .409. He went hitless in three times against Brosnan, twice with men on second base, and then was taken from the game. He departed after his turn at bat in the fifth, and with the Cardinals leading 6 to 0, it was a sign the Giants had decided to retreat and come back to fight another day.

There were more encouragements than Brosnan, and his every fourth-or-fifth day starter's potential. At bat, there was most of all Ken Boyer and Joe Cunningham, the reserve outfielder and reserve Musial. Ever since his friend "Mom Virdon," whose boy Bill plays outfield for Pittsburgh, sent him a card pasted up with four-leaf clovers, Boyer's fortunes have been improving. They have improved to 10 hits in his most recent 18 times at bat.

Boyer was the second-game leader with four runs batted in, on two home runs. Fans in the left field corner, and the Cardinal bullpen witnesses, said three home runs, on a blow in the fifth, but Umpire Al Barlick said foul. The vote wasn't conducted by democratic processes and Barlick overrode the multitude.

Cunningham was on base with a walk for each of Boyer's homers. Cunningham spent most of the day on base, missing only four times in 10 times at the plate. He drove in six runs, three per game, and after Boyer's homer produced a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the nightcap, Cunningham made it officially easy for Brosnan with a bases-loaded double that scored three of the second inning's four Cardinal runs.

The Cardinals made 13 hits in each game—San Francisco made 23, with 14 in the first game—but the runs booted in were more important than the runs batted in for the first game. Wilmer Mizell labored, and left, for the Cardinals, and it went into extra innings after the Giants tied it at 6-6 on May's fourth hit, an RBI single in the eighth.

Cardinal Manager Fred Hutchinson had more fun than he did with his first chemistry set, fiddling around with the lineup seeking something explosive, in the first game. Gene Green started as the catcher. Outfielder Green's throws from right to home plate have been thrills, and Catcher Green's throws from home to centerfield were powerful, too. He went back to the outfield, in the eighth and veteran Musial left the game and Cunningham came to first base, and saving Green led to victory.

He singled with one out in the tenth against Ray Crone, the Giants' fifth pitcher. He went to third, sliding head first as though he had been studying old action pictures of Pepper Martin, on newly installed shortstop Eddie Kasko's single. Displaced shortstop Dick Schofield came in to run for Green. While the Giants Manager Bill Rigney talked baseball to Crone, Schofield did wind sprint down the foul line, and when play was resumed, Crone made a wild pitch to Hobie Landrith. Schofield resumed his wind sprints, this time for home, and scored.

It was a ragged finish for a ragged game, but nice. It did make Brosnan's appearance look more elegant too, kind of like the entrance of the professor after the kids have been having a good time at recess.

Cardinal centerfielder Curt Flood was taken to Jewish hospital for X-rays of his right wrist. The pictures did not reveal any break. Flood was hit by a pitch Wednesday at Milwaukee, and reported after batting practice that the wrist wasn't up to bat-swinging.

The Giants' leadoff man, Third Baseman Jim Davenport, is missing the four-game Cardinal series because of a rib muscle injury suffered at Philadelphia Wednesday.

The Cardinals' STAN MUSIAL slides safely home in the first inning of the opener of the Memorial day doubleheader with San Francisco's Giants at Busch Stadium. Musial scored after Joe Cunningham singled to right field. The Giants' catcher is BOB SCHMIDT (27) and the other Redbird at the plate is KEN BOYER (14). The umpire is AL BARLICK. The Cards beat the National League leaders in the first game, 7-6, in 10 innings and took the second one, 8-1.

Sievers Hits Three Homers And Bats In Seven Runs as Senators Beat Yanks Twice

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Roy Sievers finally is back in business bustin' the ball out of sight as the foremost homer hammering Senator in Washington history.

Sievers, apparently junking the aches and pains that have slowed his American League home run and runs-batted-in title defenses, practically hoisted the Senators out of the cellar all by himself yesterday. He shelled New York with three homers good for seven runs in a 13-8 and 7-2 sweep that left the Yankees with their first four-game losing streak in two seasons.

Jim Lemon also cracked a pair of homers and Ken Aspromonte drove in five runs as Washington managed its first doubleheader sweep in 29 tries over three seasons, chilling the largest Yankee Stadium crowd of the season.

The 39,742 who sat in on Sievers's show also provided the top attendance in the majors' Memorial day bills which drew 229,607. The American League pulled in 117,790, the National League 111,817.

Kansas City retained second place in the A.L., beating third place Cleveland, 7-6, after losing, 7-1, in a morning game. The long suffering Chicago White Sox gained a share of third with a 6-5 and 4-2 sweep against the Detroit Tigers, who had won five straight. Baltimore and Boston swapped 2-0 victories, with Frank Sullivan blanking the Orioles on two hits and Arnie Portocarrero then shutting out the Red Sox on four hits while ending Baltimore's losing streak at eight games.

In the N.L., St. Louis vaulted from seventh to fifth with a sweep over first place San Francisco, 7-6 in 10 innings and 8-1. Second place Milwaukee split at Pittsburgh, losing 12-6 after a 7-4 victory. Ninth-inning rallies gave the Chicago Cubs, 3-2 and 10-8 triumphs over Los Angeles with Walt Moryn hitting three homers in the nightcap. Cincinnati walloped Philadelphia, 10-1, in a single game.

After leading the A.L. with 42 homers and 114 R.B.I.s last season, Sievers, 31, now has driven in 23 runs and has seven homers. He matched Goose Goslin's all-time Washington high of 127 with yesterday's trio. Roy has hit 162 in the majors, getting the other 35 with the St. Louis Browns.

He had gone 12 games without a home run until he tagged losing reliefer Bob Grim for a three-run shot that gave the Nats a 9-7 lead in the first game after they had blown a 6-0 lead. Then he belted a pair of two-run shots in the nightcap against Bobby Shantz, who lost his first game, and reliefer Art Ditmar. Sievers's last four homers have been against the Yanks.

Al Smith's leaping stab turned Frank Bolling's drive into a game-ending double play for the White Sox as Billy Pierce (3-4) won the nightcap with a six-hitter before 30,411 at Detroit. Sherm Lollar, who homered in the first inning, bagged the opener with a two-out single in the ninth for reliefer Jerry Staley's first victory.

No. 7 for Garver.

Harry Chiti, who also homered, singled home the afternoon game clincher in the sixth for the Athletics as Ned Garver won his seventh game with relief in the ninth. Mickey Vernon hit a three-run homer off Murry Dickson, but Duke Maas then retired Roger Maris on a fly and got Russ Nixon to hit into a doubleplay to end the game. Rocky Colavito drove in five runs for the Tribe, hitting home runs in each game. Ray Narleski's six-hitter beat the Athletics in the morning game, which drew 12,319, as Larry Doby homered for his first extra base hit of the year for the Tribe. Bob Cerv, the A.L. home run and R.B.I. leader (40) hit his thirteenth homer and drove in four tallies in the nightcap, which drew 14,224.

Al Pilarcik singled in the first and fourth for the only hits off Sullivan (2-1), who has won six in a row from the Orioles. Frank Malzone's homer followed a walk to Ted Williams in the fourth inning to beat Connie Johnson (1-4). Portocarrero gained his first shutout since 1955 with the help of three doubleplays. The Orioles handed Rookie Bob (Riverboat) Smith his first defeat with a walk and singles by Gus Triandos and Dick Williams, as 21,094 sat in at Baltimore.

Cubs Finally Beat Podres.

Les Walls' thirteenth homer junked a five-hit shutout for Southpaw Johnny Podres, who never had lost to the Cubs, in the ninth inning of the first game. Podres, now 4-4 after winning his first four games, hen walked Ernie Banks ahead of Moryn's double. Reliefer Ed Roebuck gave up the pinch single by Taylor, who was 4-for-4 in the nightcap for a perfect day at the plate. Don Elston won his sixth in relief of Moe Drabowsky, tagged for an unearned run and the first of Gil Hodges' two home runs for the day, in his eight innings.

Hodges' three-run homer helped stake winless Don Newcombe to a 6-0 lead in the nightcap. But Banks and Moryn hit successive homers in the fourth, Chuck Tanner and Moryn pulled the back-to-back homer show in the seventh against Roebuck, and then Moryn hit one in the ninth off Sandy Koufax.

Four runs in the ninth won the opener for the Braves with unbeaten Don McMahon winning his fourth in relief of Bob Rush. An error, Billy Bruton's bunt single and Felix Mantilla's two-run double did it. The Pirates had 18 hits in the nightcap starting against Lew Burdette. Dick Groat was 4-for-4 and R. C. Stevens and Danny Kravitz each drove in two runs with triples. Bill Mazeroski's second double scored the clinching pair in a four-run seventh inning off loser Humberto Robinson. Don Gross (2-0) was the winner in relief in the second game of the pair that drew 32,428 at Pittsburgh.

Newcombe Fined $300; He Broke Curfew

CHICAGO, May 31 (UPI)—Vice-President Buzzy Bavasi of the Los Angeles Dodgers has fined Pitcher Don Newcomb $300 for failure to report to the hotel before the curfew last night.

Manager Walter Alston said he didn't know why Newcomb stayed out all night. Alston said, "He had no reason to do this, especially as the club is going bad right now. The other players are still doing their best, living up to the training rules. Newcomb was wrong."

It is the second time Newcomb has been fined by th e Dodgers. The last occasion was in 1955 when he refused to pitch batting practice. Newcombe was knocked out of the box yesterday against the Cubs after 3⅓ innings.

Princess Ellen Seeks Fourth Cahokia Win

Sam Pershall's Princess Ellen, a three-time winner at Cahokia Downs, will try to make it four in a row tonight, in the one mile and 70 yard feature race. She will carry top weight of 119 pounds and will spot from four to 15 pounds to her rivals.

Pitted against Princess Ellen will be Imurguy, Andy-Mandy, Pont Royal, G. Lad, Sal's Request and Norsemaid.

A holiday crowd of 7958 that wagered $374,339, easily the best of the meeting, saw apprentice jockey Dale Parks ride both winners in the daily double as well as a deadheat for second place.

Parks opened the program by winning with Ramonson ($21.60) and came back with Spring Meeting ($13) in the second for a double worth $172.40. The only other time that a rider has had both winners in the double was on April 30, when Bobby Gallimore turned the trick with Tickle Ky and Gin Tonic for an $83.20 payoff. Jomay and Derby Play went to a deadheat for place.

In addition to his double, Parks piloted Miss Frac Job to victory in the feature race in the track record time of 58 2-5 seconds for the five furlongs. Miss Frac Job paid $4.40 in beating Mr. Preco and Hy-Bill B. Frankie Maher was a double winner, scoring with Striking Hour and Marbardi.

Jimmy Bryan Wins Tragedy-Marred '500'

O'Connor Dies in Pile-Up

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP)—Jimmy Bryan, who now has won everything available in championship closed course auto racing, tonight will pick up a check for about $100,000 at a 500-mile race victory dinner saddened by the death of Pat O'Connor.

O'Connor was one of the most personable and capable young drivers in auto racing. He died in his burning car on the first lap of the Memorial Day classic yesterday after the worst start in the 47-year history of the race.

So fouled up was the start, climaxed by the 15-car pile-up that the speedway is almost certain to go back to the old conventional lineup that it abandoned last year.

"It will," said Speedway Racing Director Sam Hanks, the 1957 race winner, "if I have anything to do with it."

Supposed Safety Measure.

As a supposed safety measure, the pits were moved into the infield after the 1956 race. They were cut off from the main stretch by a concrete wall, with entrance and exit far from the starting line. The management decided it would be too much work to push the cars around the wall and back to the starting line for the old pre-race cold engine lineup.

Last year the cars hurried helter-skelter out of the pits, under their own power and tried to line up back of the pace car on a parade lap. Two collided and never reached the starting lineup.

A supposed improvement yesterday was a single file lineup of the cars in their starting order, with engines running, in the pits. They were to be driven into the traditional three-car lines as the pace car pulled away for the parade lap.

Dick Rathman, in the No. 1 starting position, got away too fast and was halfway around the track before anybody else, including Hanks with the pace car, got started. His mates in the front line, Ed Elisian and Jimmy Reece, finally caught up with him and all three were running half a lap ahead of the field.

An extra lap was ordered in an attempt to straighten out the mess. The front row cars got into line, with the field straggling behind them, and the green starting light flashed on.

Dick Rathman, the fastest 10-mile qualifier, was ahead going into the first turn. Elisian tried to pass him on the third turn and lost control. In an instant, that northeast corner of the track looked like a race car junk yard.

Hits Rear of Car.

O'Connor, a handsome 29-year-old racing veteran from North Vernon, Ind., ran over the rear of the auto driven by Reece, a native Oklahoman now living in Indianapolis.

O'Connor's car overturned and burst into flames. The body was unrecognizable.

A car driven by Jerry Unser, a first-time starter from Long Beach, Calif., ran over two other cars and plunged over the retaining wall but he escaped with a dislocated shoulder. He was driving a car that had been wrecked in practice by Don Edmunds but hurriedly rebuilt for the race.

Of the 15 cars in the mixup, eight were knocked out of the race. Three others kept on running. Four got back in the race after repairs.

Elisian Is Suspended.

Duane Carter, director of competition for the United States Auto Club, announced Elisian's suspension pending action of the board of directors. Carter said in his opinion Elisian was "guilty of bad judgment" at the race's start. The suspension implied that Elisian was responsible for the crash, at least in Carter's eyes.

Elisian was a close friend of Bill Vukovich, killed in the last previous fatal accident in the 500-mile race, three years ago. Although not involved in that accident, Elisian stopped his car and tried to help save Vukovich from his burning car.

O'Connor's death was the forty-eighth in the speedway's history, including two years of races prior to the first 500 in 1911.

Bryan, winner of the Monza 500 in Italy last year and the United States Auto Club champion the last two years, started in seventh position in the Belond Special driven to victory in the Memorial day classic last year by Sam Hanks.

The husky cigar-chewing Bryan missed skidding and spinning cars by inches and found himself in first place at the end of the tragic first lap. He stayed there automatically for the 25 minutes it took to clear the track—and then there was a first-class race!

George Amick, a 33-year-old speed veteran making his first 500 start, drove a tremendous race and finished only a little over 26 seconds behind Bryan. It was the third year Amick, from Venice, Calif., had tried to get into the race.

Johnny Boyd of Fresno, Calif., who finished 42 seconds behind Amick, was running practically hub-to-hub with Bryan late in the race. Jim Rathmann of Miami, second last year, also was coming up fast.

In the last 100 miles, bad luck hit Boyd and Rathmann. Boyd had to make an extra pit stop to replace a shredded tire. Rathmann spun and skidded past his pit and had to make another lap before stopping for fuel.

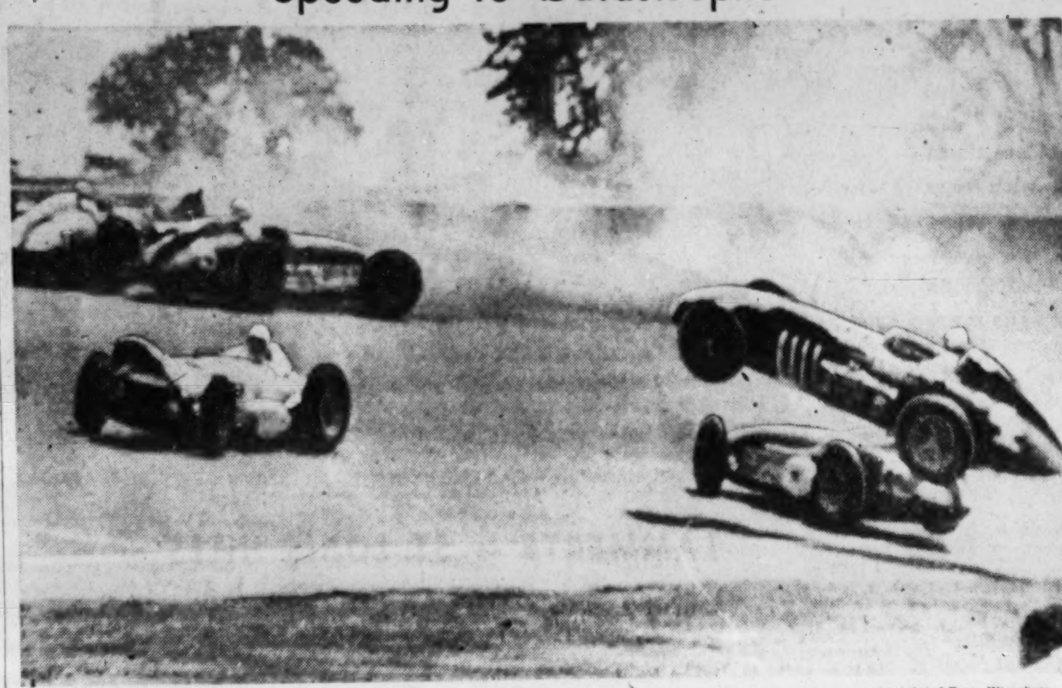

Amick made up almost a full lap late in the race, running a sizzling 144 miles an hour in a horizontal engine car, the Demler Special, similar to the Bryan-Hanks racer.

The winning speed, 133.791, was the second-fastest in the history of the race, in spite of the big wreck and numerous spins. Only 14 cars were running at the finish.

Leaders at various stages of the race besides the first three finishers were Eddie Sachs of Center Valley, Pa., whose universal joint failed, and Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., an old timer who finished fourth. The unofficial standings listed Jim Rathmann fifth.

Bryan won $20,850 in lap prizes—$150 a lap for each he led. Amick won $3900 in lap prizes, Bettenhausen $2700 and Boyd $2500. Total winnings won't be known until tonight's victory dinner after the speedway counts its receipts and figures accessory companies awards. The crowd was estimated over 150,000.

For your convenience ~ 3 LAMMERT STORES

LAMMERTS ~ CLAYTON

Opened on Valentine's Day in 1949, this shop was dedicated to those who appreciate the finest. It is a small and exclusive shop with large stocks of silver, china, glassware and decorative accessories, gifts, furniture, linens, floorcovering and draperies. Staffed with most capable Interior Decorators and sales personnel, it carries only goods of impeccable taste, from the most modest price range to the more extravagant items.

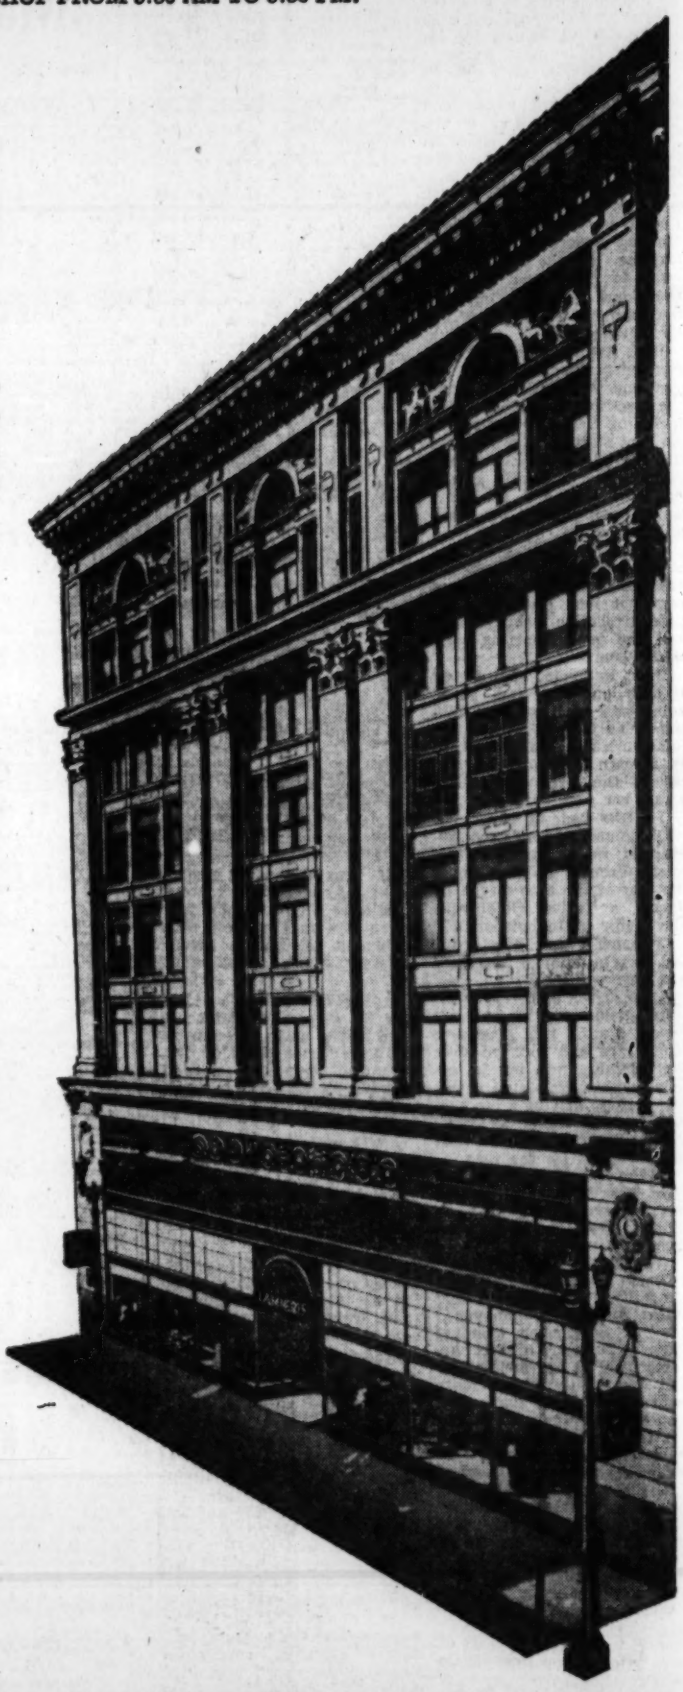

LAMMERTS ~ ST. LOUIS HILLS

Opened on August 28, 1954, the second of our suburban stores, "St. Louis Hills" is a complete homefurnishings store. Here we carry almost everything we have downtown except the very extravagant. No need to go elsewhere, for everything is here in big selection. This store, for your convenience, is open every night until 9:30 except on Saturday. Here we have highly skilled personnel, large stocks of furniture, rugs, appliances, draperies, linens, silver, china, lamps and gifts. Here you can cover all of your needs and SHOP FROM 9:30 AM TO 9:30 PM.

LAMMERTS ~ DOWNTOWN

Opened in 1923, Lammerts Downtown is known from Coast to Coast for an enormous selection of furniture. Here we have about five acres of samples alone. Furniture in the lowest price range is here in abundance. Furniture in the highest price category is also on display in quantity undreamed of elsewhere. Lammerts Downtown is unique in this respect. No stores we know of are prepared to offer this wide selection.

Lammerts Downtown has always maintained that people do not buy furniture every day as they do clothing or groceries, therefore, when they do, they should have the benefit of the largest selection possible, and at the lowest prices. An extra ten minutes, driving time, spent to reach Lammerts Downtown, might well save many years of regret over an impulsive purchase of furniture.

✓ Eight streets to satisfaction, selection and savings in furniture... at Lammerts Downtown!

✓ Ten minutes more driving time... ten times the selection in everything for your home!

✓ Park free while you shop in Lammerts... plenty of room on 3 lots behind our store!

G.M. PRICE TO NAVY CALLED EXCESSIVE

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The General Accounting Office says General Motors got substantially more than a reasonable price for diesel motors it sold to the Navy.

In a report to Congress, the GAO pointed the main finger of blame at Navy procurement officials. The accounting agency, which keeps a check for Congress on what happens to appropriated money, said these officials made an inadequate inquiry into actual costs to G.M.

The agency took issue also with some G.M. figures as to its costs.

The findings of the GAO inquiry into $118,700,000 awarded to G.M.'s Cleveland diesel engine division were sent to the House Armed Services Committee. A copy was made available yesterday.

The report dealt mainly with five contracts totaling $32,700,000 which the Navy's bureau of ships negotiated for a fixed price. Three bigger contracts for the other $86,000,000 had previously been negotiated on a price - to - be-redetermined basis.

Deliveries on the five follow-on contracts for diesel engines, diesel generator sets and spare parts were made in 1954-56 as part of the Navy program to build nonmagnetic minesweepers.

The GAO did not list a specific total of overpricing. It said G.M. has offered a $690,000 refund.

HARLEM G.O.P. BACKS POWELL FOR RE-ELECTION

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 31—Representative Adam Clayton Powell, the controversial Harlem Democrat who bolted his party to support President Eisenhower in 1956 and was denied support of Tammany Hall for the fall elections, has been indorsed by Harlem Republican leaders. The indorsement was made Thursday over the objection of Thomas J. Curran, New York County Republican chairman.

The Republican action assures Powell a place on the ballot in November even if he is unsuccessful in the Democratic primary. He now is serving his seventh term in the House.

Powell, pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist church in Harlem, is under a three-count indictment on income tax evasion charges.

Yesterday, Powell was indorsed for re-election by Benjamin J. Davis, New York state chairman of the Communist party.

ROBERTSON MAN BEATEN, ROBBED IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Metro Marchak of Robertson was beaten and robbed of $60 early today by a man who accosted him as he was sitting in his automobile in the 400 block of Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis.

Marchak told police his assailant claimed to be a policeman, and that when Marchak ran the man chased him, finally jumping on his back and forcing him to the ground. The victim was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, with a knee injury.

27 IN GRADUATING CLASS TO BOYCOTT COMMENCEMENT

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 31 (AP)—Almost half the members of the graduating class of Bradford Durfee College of Technology say they will not attend commencement tomorrow in protest against what they termed political appointment of the school's new president.

Twenty-seven of the 62 seniors in a statement yesterday charged "politics" in the selection of William J. Holland, a Fall River native, by the trustees last Monday. Holland, a Harvard graduate, has worked for the last eight years as supervisor of mechanical and chemical engineering at the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) atomic plant. He is 51 years old.

The trustees, in an answering statement, defended the selection of Holland.

"No one can force these young men to accept their degrees," the trustees said. "If they choose not to, that is their decision."

BRITAIN TO TAKE 10,000 MORE MEN OUT OF EUROPE

© New York Times News Service

LONDON, May 31—Britain will withdraw 10,000 men from the defense of Europe next year, leaving only 45,000 troops in West Germany.

The reduction is part of an agreement between the German and British governments ending a dispute over the cost of keeping British forces in West Germany. The Foreign Office announced the terms of the agreement Thursday night.

The dispute arose over the United Kingdom's difficulties in finding foreign exchange to pay part of the costs of maintaining British ground and air forces in West Germany.

Critics saw the reduction against a background of general crumbling of NATO. At the moment, they pointed out, the French army is locked in Algeria, France is drifting toward civil war, Greece and Turkey are at odds over Cyprus and the West German army is not yet formed.

BRITISH WOMAN REPRIEVED

LONDON, May 31 (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Wilson, 66 years old, was sentenced to death for the poison murder of two of her three husbands, was granted a reprieve today by home secretary R. A. Butler.

She was the first woman to be sentenced to be hanged under Britain's new homicide act. The reprieve meant that Mrs. Wilson would serve a life sentence.

GENERAL 13A

Emily Post Says:

Upon the death of a friend you should go at once to the house, write "With sympathy" on your card and leave it at the door. Or, you write a letter to the family. In either case you send flowers, addressed to the funeral of (name of the deceased) or to the nearest relative. The latter method is preferable, if the relative is a friend. But the former method is followed if the deceased alone was known to you.

Weekend Showers Likely

A chance of showers or thundershowers tonight with a possibility of rain again tomorrow afternoon or evening was predicted by the Weather Bureau. Temperatures should change only slightly this weekend, but somewhat cooler weather was forecast for Monday.

Traces of rain threatened Memorial day activities here yesterday, but scattered thunderstorms were concentrated in the northern tier of states from the Dakotas and Nebraska to the upper Great Lakes region and middle Mississippi valley.

Widely scattered showers fell in the 24 hours ended early today in the Rocky mountain states, along the Washington-Oregon coast, Florida and parts of New England.

Rain was forecast for tonight in the northern Appalachians, Lakes region, Mississippi valley, Plains states from southern North Dakota to northern Texas, northern Rockies and Cascades, as indicated by the above map.

Warm moist air from the Gulf sent temperatures up 10 to 20 degrees today from the preceding 24 hours in the middle Mississippi valley and the Lakes region to the middle Atlantic coast and southern New England.

Readings in Missouri this morning were generally near 70. Hot weather yesterday was confined chiefly to the southwest desert region. The nation's high yesterday was 111 at Presido, Tex.

Unstung Hero

As the sign says, mail in a box at Meramec avenue and Forsyth boulevard in Clayton, was picked up in a hurry when a swarm of bees collected on the drop box Thursday. Carrier Edwin A. Boeck, mindful of the creed that nothing stops the United States mail, braved the buzzing swarm and wasted no time in removing the contents. He was not stung but George Harrison, a janitor living at 8015 Forsyth, was stung when he attempted, unsuccessfully, to entice the bees into a bag. A man from the Humane Society later exterminated the bees with insecticide.

WATCHMAN AND BURGLAR TRADE SHOTS

A night watchman and a burglar exchanged shots early today in the Teamsters Building, 4141 Forest Park avenue. Neither was wounded.

James Moriority, 78-year-old watchman, told police he heard a crash of glass at 2 a.m. and encountered a man in a first-floor corridor. The intruder fired two shots. Moriority drew his revolver and fired two shots in return. The burglar fled.

Investigation disclosed that entrance had been gained by breaking a window. Glass doors to two offices were broken, but nothing was taken. The building houses several Teamster organizations, including Locals 600 and 603.

Police, searching the neighborhood following the shooting, discovered $200 had been stolen from a safe at Gane Bros. & Lane, Inc., 4115 Forest Park. Police said the safe door was insecure.

Six cameras valued at $915 were stolen early yesterday from a display window at Eastman Kodak Stores, Inc., 1009 Olive street. Officers said the window was smashed with a hammer, which the thief discarded at the scene.

SOVIET VOIDING OF LOAN ASSAILED BY YUGOSLAVIA

BELGRADE, May 31 (UPI) —Yugoslavia will be "compelled" to demand damages from the Soivet Union if it stands by "unilateral suspension" of $285,000,000 in aid, a spokesman said yesterday.

Foreign secretariat spokesman Jaksa Petric told a press conference, "if the Soviet government does not accept the Yugoslavian stand . . . the government will be compelled to raise a demand for damages."

He said the Russian suspension was "entirely unilateral" and a "'cancellation of valid economic agreements, obviously at odds with generally accepted norms in international relations."

"So far a comparatively negligible part of the credits have been expended," Petric said, pointing out that this is the second time the Soviet Union has suspended the same agreement.

He said that the Yugoslav government feels Russia is under obligation to carry out the agreements and that the arguments given by the Soviets for cancelling them are completely one-sided and cannot be accepted.

EISENHOWER ASKS HEROES TO AID HIM

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, May 31 — President Eisenhower asked 216 Medal of Honor winners yesterday to help him reorganize the Defense Department.

He greeted the military heroes in the rose garden of the White House. For each he had a few words and a handshake. Vice President Richard M. Nixon stood with him to pay tribute to the holders of the country's highest military honor on Memorial day.

"Because you have been such great fighters, I am certain each of you feels a great compulsion to be a fighter for peace," Mr. Eisenhower said.

He said there were three cornerstones for fighting for peace: spiritual strength, economic strength and military strength.

Declaring that "we must have in our military forces real unification of purpose, real unification of organization and of direction," Mr. Eisenhower went on:

"That great reform is, I believe, on the threshold of accomplishment. There is already a bill reported out by the House Committee that with certain specific and important exceptions will be most satisfactory."

He referred to the bill recommended by the House Armed Services Committee. The committee's bill retained the rights of military leaders to appeal to Congress on their own initiative, insisted that the Secretary of Defense act through the individual service secretaries, and insured a voice for Congress in blocking mergers and transfers of military functions.

TRANSIT DESEGREGATION BEGINS IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, May 31 (UPI)—Integration came without incident on city busses and streetcars today, but last night a flaming cross appeared on the lawn of the judge who ordered an end to segregation.

Police reported that when they arrived at the house of United States District Judge J. Skelly Wright there was no crowd and the cross had burned out. They said they did not know who put it there.

The transit company complied with Wright's order to desegregate at one minute past midnight.

The order followed the handing of a copy of the official transcript of the United States Supreme Court to transit company officers and city officials yesterday afternoon. The Supreme Court's ruling upheld without comment Wright's ruling of more than a year and a half ago.

Mercury, the Next Stop

By Ramon Coffman

THE SOLAR SYSTEM tourists leave the planet Jupiter with some regret. They have had good views of the gigantic object, but feel that they might have learned more if the pilot had stayed in the area longer.

"I suppose we shall go to Mars next," says Mr. Jones.

"Mars is on the other side of the sun at the present time," replies the guide. "Our next visit will be to Mercury, which is on this side of the sun. While on the way there, we shall cross the orbit of the earth."

"By how much shall we miss the earth?" asks Senora Maria Jimenez, a shy lady from Santiago, Chile.

"By about 40,000,000 miles."

SUCH A DISTANCE now seems rather small to the tourists. All of them have thoughts of their homes in Canada, the United States, Mexico and South America. They almost wish they could cut short their trip, but if they did that they would miss three of the planets.

"I do wish I could have some of that good food in old Milwaukee," remarks Mrs. Lydell. "I have paid $100 for this trip, and I wonder whether I have had $100 worth of food. But the rest of you seem to like sights better than meals. I suppose I will have to go on."

"Yes," comments the guide, with a smile. "We could hardly drop you off out here in space!"

THE TOURISTS play games during the hours which follow. A chess tournament is carried on by the men in the party, and there is applause when Senor Alessandro Madero, a friendly tourist from Mexico City, is declared the victor in the tournament.

The women spend most of their time playing bridge. After a few hours, the scores are added and Mrs. Parfrey, who lives near Toronto, is the winner. The guide presents her with the "prize of the day," a beautiful wrist watch.
